public hearing on said landmark designation and recommend approval of the designation of the Martin 5 homes, located at 1225, 1233, 1241, 1249 and 1257 Martin Avenue, described hereinafter in Section 1 of this Resolution, as a landmark of special historical, architectural, cultural, aesthetic or engineering interest or value of a historic nature and made certain findings with respect thereto; and

WHEREAS, the subject properties are all that real properties located within the City of San José at 1225, 1233, 1241, 1249 and 1257 Martin Avenue and described in Exhibit "A," which exhibit is attached hereto and made a part hereof by this reference as if fully set forth herein; and

WHEREAS, at the aforesaid time and place set for hearing, or to which the hearing was continued, this Council duly met, convened, and gave all persons full opportunity to be heard and present their views with respect to said proposed landmark designation;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SAN JOSÉ AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1. In accordance with the provisions of Chapter 13.48 of Title 13 of the San José Municipal Code, the Historic Preservation Ordinance, this Council does hereby designate the hereinafter described Martin 5 homes, located at 1225, 1233, 1241, 1249 and 1257 Martin Avenue, as landmarks of special historic, architectural, cultural, aesthetic or engineering interest or value of a historic nature.

SECTION 2. Said designation is based on the following criteria of the Historic Preservation Ordinance:

- Criterion 1: Its character, interest or value as part of the local, regional, state or national history, heritage or culture.

The properties, located within the Hanchett and Hester Park Conservation Area, sit on a mature residential area of early twentieth-century residences. This area possesses a significant concentration of homes that are unified by their aesthetically sensitive plans and details. The Craftsman style residences are distinctive within the setting of Martin Avenue and consistent with the nature, scale, and character of the neighborhood. The subject properties contribute to the Hanchett Park neighborhood, characterized by its varied high-quality early twentieth-century architecture. The property also contributes to Martin Avenue, which is considered eligible for the National Register of Historic Places due to its important streetscape. The property gained national prominence as five iconic examples of the Craftsman California bungalow, when, in 1979, the house was part of a grouping documented by the Historic American Buildings Survey (HABS) in Hanchett Residence Park. The group of five houses has since been cited in several books as notable examples of Craftsman bungalows.

- Criterion 3: Its identification with a person or persons who significantly contributed to the local, regional, state or national culture and history.

The properties are associated with Lewis E. Hanchett, a local visionary who changed patterns of transportation and residential life in San José in the turn of the twentieth century. Hanchett, with John Martin, expanded the railway throughout Santa Clara County. When he developed the Hanchett Residence Park, it was done hand-in-hand with ensuring public transportation was built into the infrastructure of the development.

- Criterion 4: Its exemplification of the cultural, economic, social or historic heritage of the City of San José.

The subject properties were built in the Hanchett Residence Park and set the tone for the type of architecture that became characteristic of the neighborhood. The homes have special significance as they helped create the concept of the move to the “suburbs” in San José, enabled by Lewis Hanchett’s intention to make public transportation accessible to the residents of Hanchett Park. The Residence Park is called the first streetcar suburb in San José, since Hanchett connected his streetcar system directly into the tract.

- Criterion 6: Its embodiment of distinguishing characteristics of an architectural type or specimen.

The properties on Martin Avenue embody distinguishing characteristics of the Craftsman-style California bungalow in the early twentieth-century era of residential architectural design. The properties exhibit particularly fine design features common to the work of Wolfe & McKenzie, such as flared eaves, projecting bays supported by decorative brackets, and bull's-eye windows.

- Criterion 7: Its identification as the work of an architect or master builder whose individual work has influenced the development of the City of San José.

The subject properties contribute to the uniqueness of this area as the architectural work of a prominent local twentieth-century architect. The properties have been identified as the work of the architectural firm of Wolfe & McKenzie, which is locally recognized as a firm whose work has influenced the development of San José. Frank Wolfe and Charles McKenzie are recognized as master architects in San José, both within the partnership and as individuals.

SECTION 3. The City Clerk is hereby directed to notify those persons designated in San José Municipal Code Section 13.48.110, Subsection L, in the manner specified by said Section and to direct the recordation of a Notice of Granting of this resolution in the Office of the Recorder of the County of Santa Clara.
