

Memorandum

TO: Honorable Mayor
and City Council

FROM: Richard Doyle
City Attorney

SUBJECT: Conflicts Review - Housing and Community Development Commission

DATE: July 24, 2019

BACKGROUND

This Office routinely reviews applications to City boards and commissions. Although the applications do not provide complete information, they do occasionally disclose potential conflicts of interest or incompatible offices. The purpose of this memorandum is to highlight major areas of potential conflict that are disclosed by applications.

COMMISSION DUTIES

The Housing and Community Development Commission ("HCDC" or "Commission") was formed in July 2013 when the Housing and Community Development Advisory Commission was merged with the Advisory Commission on Rents ("ACR") and the Mobilehome Advisory Commission ("MAC"). It serves as the successor to ACR and MAC fulfilling their duties under the Mobilehome Rent Ordinance, Chapter 17.22 of the Municipal Code and the Rental Dispute Mediation and Arbitration Ordinance ("Apartment Rent Ordinance"), Chapter 17.23 of the Municipal Code. These duties include review of the fees imposed under those ordinances. HCDC also reviews potential amendments to provisions of the Zoning Code that apply to mobilehomes including the City's Mobilehome Park Conversion Ordinance. HCDC serves as the lead citizen participation group in the planning and programming of the Community Development Block Grant. HCDC also makes recommendations on new and existing Housing Department programs and policies. Additionally, HCDC holds public hearings and makes recommendations in conjunction with the City's Consolidated Plan and Annual Action Plans. The decisions made by the members of HCDC, particularly those related to the Consolidated Plan, may impact the spending of City funds.

COMMISSION MEMBERSHIP

The Commission is a 13 member body with the following special eligibility requirements: (a) one member must be recommended by an organization of owners of San José mobilehome parks; (b) one member must be recommended by an organization of residents of San José mobilehome parks; (c) one member shall be an owner or manager of San José rent stabilized apartments; (d) one member shall be a tenant of a

San José rent stabilized apartment, and (e) At least five members shall represent low income households. The members appointed by the Mayor, District 3, District 5, and District 7 are the seats that are intended to be filled by persons representing low income households. Additionally, the mobilehome park resident representative is deemed to be a representative of low income households.

CURRENT VACANCIES

The current vacancies for which these applications are being considered are seat for District 2, District 4, District 6, District 7, District 8 and District 10. Also, there are currently no seated representatives of landlords or tenants subject to the Apartment Rent Ordinance. There are no vacancies for other Commission seats. Seats appointed by the Mayor, District 3, District 5, and District 7 should represent low income households consistent with the criteria in Part 28 of Chapter 2.08.

APPLICANTS

The applications from the applicants eligible for the current vacancies were reviewed by our office and are listed below. Unless otherwise indicated, the applications reviewed do not disclose incompatible offices or apparent conflicts of interest that would substantially impair the functioning of the Commission.

CONFLICTS THAT MAY PRECLUDE VOTE OR PARTICIPATION

Certain positions may preclude a commissioner from participating in a commission discussion or from voting if a matter involving or affecting an entity comes before the commission, including a potential grant or contract, or action under the Mobilehome Rent Ordinance, or the Apartment Rent Ordinance. While this list is not complete, these types of conflicts generally fall within one or more of the following situations:

- An application shows entities that are “sources of income” to a potential commissioner within the 12 months preceding the start of the commission term, as defined under the Political Reform Act.
- An application shows entities that are sources of income to a Spouse or Domestic Partner of a potential commissioner within the 12 months preceding the start of the commission term.
- An applicant or the Spouse or Domestic Partner of an applicant is an Officer or Board Member of an entity.

Additionally, a conflict may arise when the Commission takes action on a matter related to the Mobilehome Rent Ordinance, the Apartment Rent Ordinance or the Mobilehome related provisions of Title 20, if applicant resides in or owns a property subject to these ordinances and the potential commission action may impact the personal finances of the applicant.

Section 2.08.2820 provides that: (a) one member of the Commission shall be a person recommended by an organization of residents of San José mobilehome parks, (b) one member of the Commission shall be a person recommended by an organization of owners of the San José mobilehome parks, and these members have designated seats on the Commission pursuant to Section 2.08.2830.A. Section 2.08.2820 also provides that: (c) one member shall be an owner or manager of a residential rent stabilized property, (d) one member shall be a tenant of rent stabilized unit, however, there are no designated seats for these representatives. San José Municipal Code Section 2.08.2850 contains findings and declarations which provide that: (a) for the purposes of the mobilehome park owner who serves on the commission, the San José mobilehome park industry is tantamount to and constitutes the public generally within the meaning of California Government Code Section 87103; and (b) for purposes of the mobilehome park resident who serves on the commission, the San José mobilehome park residential community is tantamount to and constitutes the public generally within the meaning of California Government Code Section 87103. Together, these provisions allow the persons appointed to these representative positions to take action on issues related to the mobilehome rent ordinance or other mobilehome related matters without violation of the general conflict of interest provisions of state and local law. Municipal Code Section 2.08.2850 also contains findings and declarations which provide that: (c) for the purposes of the owner or manager of residential rent stabilized rental unit(s) who serves on the commission in San José, the residential rent stabilized rental property owners is tantamount to and constitutes the public generally within the meaning of California Government Code Section 87103; and for purposes of the tenant of a residential rent stabilized rental unit who serves on the commission, the San José residential rent stabilized rental unit tenants community is tantamount to and constitutes the public generally within the meaning of California Government Code Section 87103. Together, these provisions allow the persons appointed to these representative positions to take action on issues related to the apartment rent ordinance or other rent stabilized apartment related matters without violation of the general conflict of interest provisions of state and local law.

APPEARANCE OF BIAS

There may be facts which would not amount to a legal conflict of interest requiring a commissioner to recuse him or herself from a commission vote or discussion, however the relationship could create an appearance of bias on the part of the commissioner. City Council policy requires commissions to be free from bias in their decision making, and may require a commissioner to recuse him or herself if the facts could reasonably lead one to conclude that the applicant would be biased for or against an entity or entities.

HOUSING DEPARTMENT GRANTEE POLICY

In addition to the conflicts listed above, it is Housing Department Policy that in order to avoid a perceived conflict of interest, no person who is a member of the board of directors of, or is employed by, an agency that applies for or receives CDBG, ESG, HOME or other funding will be eligible to vote on funding decisions involving that agency regarding that funding source. Where an applicant is connected with a specific agency that has previously applied for grants or funding, this policy will be mentioned below.

Supplemental Questions

Have you ever attended a meeting of the Commission(s) to which you are applying?

Yes No

Would you be available to attend meetings at the scheduled time?

Yes No

Please describe your experience in serving on a Commission or Board.

I have not previously served on a commission. I have previously served on a Neighborhood Housing Services of Silicon Valley and supported the work done to close the organization as smoothly as possible as it was not sustainable. In addition, I am currently on the ACE Charter School board since 2009 and take my fiduciary responsibility very seriously. My role as a board member is advisory is to support and advise the CEO of the organization.

Considering your experience and activities in business, labor, professional, social, or other organizations, indicate the experience, training, knowledge and/or skills which qualify you for appointment to the selected commission(s).

From my experience in community organizing since 2002 to my current employment, I have dedicated my life in service to the community. As a long time resident of San Jose, I understand the challenges of living in the area, from cost of living, to finding good schools or safe parks to play with my children and now grandchildren. I have the formal training and the first hand experience of living, struggling to live in one of the most expensive communities in the world.

What is your understanding of the purpose of the Commission?

The purpose of the commission is clearly detailed in the description, "advising the City Council and providing ongoing input into policies and issues affecting the future of the San José community". The commission was created with through and consideration of who makes-up the commission. There is a reason why low to moderate income individuals and organizations servicing low income communities are selected. I understand that the role of the commission is to protect vulnerable communities as they are less likely to have a voice in policy or being in positions of influence. I also understand that is it important to be grounded in what the community needs. As a commission, the role is not to represent your interest, but express the interest of those you represent.

Please list three issues facing the City that you feel the Commission should address.

1) Securing affordable housing stock so the City can create housing for a wide range of income levels and retain the social fabric that makes San Jose wonderful for existing families while making it a welcoming place for new individuals and families. How to make the best use of housing development, infill, TOD's and support policies that have a holistic approach to community development and healthy neighborhoods with income diversity is a priority. 2) Access to community resources such as public transportation, libraries, parks, community centers which all healthy communities need to prosper. 3) Climate change and the impact of droughts and flooding in our community, the importance of protecting and mitigating the results of climate change for future generations.

Question applies to Housing and Community Development Commission

Do you have experience in any of the following areas? *

Community Development

I would like to say . . .

I earned my masters degree in Community Development in 2010 from San Jose State. I have focused a large part of my adult life in building community through thinking about space and relationships. I am aware and understand how the physical improvement in the built environment can change perspectives and use of space. I also understand well the need to create opportunities of increased social capital to build communities. In my current work, leading one of the City of San Jose's place based Initiatives we have been able to see many community development concepts come to fruition. In addition, I have seen first hand the experience of the families we serve being displaced.

We rent a small in law unit in our backyard. But I feel this will have little impact to my personal interest since it is such a small income and feel that it will actually make fair decisions because I have both the perspectives from tenant and landlord issues.

Please describe your experience in serving on a Commission or Board.

Vice Chair, SJ Parks and Recreation Commission, 1998=2002

Considering your experience and activities in business, labor, professional, social, or other organizations, indicate the experience, training, knowledge and/or skills which qualify you for appointment to the selected commission(s).

I have conducted various PR, politics, fund raising, market research and sales work countywide I know most of the stakeholders. I have plenty of volunteer leadership experience. I was vital in getting the commissions to have more than one term.

What is your understanding of the purpose of the Commission?

The commission advises the Council on matters regarding parks and recreation.

Please list three issues facing the City that you feel the Commission should address.

1. Money for parks maintenance 2. Gangs and child crime issues. 3. Growing the recreation programs.

Question applies to Arts Commission

Describe recent San José arts activities you have participated in during the last twelve months (up to five activities) and what drew you to attend?

I have a passion for the commission, so I joined and am reapplying. I have a passion to serve the people of San Jose. So I became a San Jose Jaycee and Chapter President. I have a hunger for personal growth so I have taken many courses and activities of Landmark Education.

Question applies to Arts Commission

Describe the ways in which you believe the arts bring value to the general community.

1. They make people wonder at the beauty of their environment and town.
2. They cause people to think.
3. They make people proud to be here.

Question applies to Arts Commission

Should the City of San José have an active role in arts and cultural development? If so, in what ways and why?

Yes I believe so. The role I see is supporting local artists of all media. The role I see is assuring there is public art throughout the city. The role I see is providing sound advice to the Council. The role I see is being a stand, a beacon, and a focal point for art.

Question applies to Arts Commission

How can you contribute to advising City Council on policy and programs related to cultural development in San José?

I know most councilmembers and much of the staff. I can approach them successfully. I know how to write a killer report so they have facts. I am involved in many communities so I can get the word out and bring it to the Council. I can continue to be a stand for the Arts in the community. For example, I promoted Tapestry in Talent to garner over 250,000 visitors. This was during a year we had to charge for the first time during the festival. We also had to move to the less desirable fairgrounds during deconstruction of downtown. I crafted marketing tools, worked with business and government.

Question applies to Housing and Community Development Commission

What experience do you have with affordable housing issues?

39 years ago I fought for San Jose's rent relief ordinance. I advised 6 paraprofessionals to help 12,000 seniors with housing issues. I still do that, though not professionally. I was very active with Housing Action, which was a progressive pro housing coalition.

Please state why you want to become a member of this Board or Commission including specific objectives which you would work toward as a member. If you are applying for the Board of Fair Campaign and Political Practices, please indicate any familiarity or experience you may have with campaign laws.

Passion and appetite to learn. I have an immense passion for issues concerning equity, diversity, and making certain that the disenfranchised are served with professionalism and respect. I believe by working together we can solve the housing crisis in San Jose and be thought leaders and innovators for the rest of California through sound policy and effective programming. On any given night, over 4,000 people are homeless in our City. Thousands more are just a missed paycheck, health emergency, or some other unexpected event from ending up on the streets. One objective I would work towards as a member would be towards ensuring we continue to do everything we can to keep people housed and help those who need it find a new place to call home. I would like to continue the City's work on tenant rights and education, explore new ways to find underutilized and surplus land for the development of affordable housing, and strengthen our crisis response system to make sure the people who need the help the most have access to the right services when then need it. I am confident that in joining the Commission, I will bring my appetite to learn the needs of San Jose and work as a team to be a problem solver for those needs.

Please state any other information which you feel would be useful in reviewing your application

I moved to San Jose two years ago from Houston. Before moving here, I had only visited San Jose once. During that time, I recall seeing so much beauty and hope in the people's faces, potential, and culture. San Jose felt like home. In the same week, I stumbled across a banner from LifeMoves, a local non-profit that works with homeless residents, which read: "Breaking the Cycle of Homelessness." This lofty goal resonated with me and what I wanted to do in my life to help people; I immediately applied and was hired the same day as the Executive Assistant to the CEO. Fighting homelessness, ending homelessness, and serving people are my core values. I plan to live, buy, retire and raise a family right here in San Jose. In doing so, I want to serve the community in which I will live for a lifetime. Servant leadership – the understanding that by working towards a greater purpose collectively we can lead the way for all – is a unique and critical element that I will bring to every Commission discussion.

Supplemental Questions

Have you ever attended a meeting of the Commission(s) to which you are applying?

Yes No

Would you be available to attend meetings at the scheduled time?

Yes No

Please describe your experience in serving on a Commission or Board.

In serving on the Board and Steering Committee at the San Jose Peace & Justice Center, I led a mission, vision and values workshop to bring focus back to the community. In that role, I have also worked very closely with the Social Justice Impact Advisors to bring police injustices, immigration, and homelessness awareness to the community through workshops, information booths and organized gatherings. Although this would be my first time serving on a Commission, my collaborative nature, flexibility, and willingness to learn are all transferable skills that I believe would serve me well as a commissioner.

Considering your experience and activities in business, labor, professional, social, or other organizations, indicate the experience, training, knowledge and/or skills which qualify you for appointment to the selected commission(s).

In serving on the Board and Steering Committee at the San Jose Peace & Justice Center, I led a mission, vision and values work shop to bring focus back to the community. Further, I have assisted the Controller in filing the 990-exempt income tax. Here I also work very closely with the Social Justice Impact Advisors to bring police injustices, immigration, and homelessness awareness to the community through workshops, information booths and organized gatherings. Although this would be my first time serving on a Commission, bringing hard work, flexibility and adept to learning are transferable skills that I am looking forward to bringing.

What is your understanding of the purpose of the Commission?

The purpose of the Commission is to be a voice of the community and act as a liaison to Chappie Jones, Jacky Morales-Ferrand, Sam Liccardo, and City Council members. More specifically, advising local elected officials on housing and development needs of San Jose, as well as our meaningful work in HUD CDBG funding. Collaborating with one another to help ensure that the best housing and development policies are made, allowing equal access to housing for all citizens of San Jose.

Please list three issues facing the City that you feel the Commission should address.

Question applies to Housing and Community Development Commission

What experience do you have with affordable housing issues?

As a professional working locally in the field of homelessness for the past two years, I have a unique grasp of the challenge facing the most vulnerable residents in our community. Having heard countless stories of hardship and challenge has led me to a clear understanding that the Bay Area, and specifically San Jose, is in the middle of a supply and demand crisis of epic proportions. While we live in one of the most affluent places in America, disenfranchised people are often spending at least 60% of their income on housing. Fortunately, with the 2016 County Measure A funding, we are on a mission to bridge the gap of the supply by building thousands of units of affordable housing in the coming years. There is a challenge of finding the right land, in the best neighborhood, to serve the most clients; however, with every challenge provides great opportunity. An opportunity to educate the neighbors and truly build community. A community is more than just many houses, it's homes with a peace of mind and is something I believe every person should have.

Question applies to Housing and Community Development Commission

Please explain your familiarity with the Community Development Block Grant Program?

CDBG is a federally funded program distributed to community organizations that focus on poverty, affordable housing and urban development. This a HUD program. At my former employer, LifeMoves, we received CDBG public service and capital funding for several of our shelter programs. While I realize that CDBG funds can serve many needs, I also know that it is perhaps the most flexible federal funding source from HUD and I have appreciated San Jose's historical approach in dedicating so much of its allocation to serving homeless and extremely low income households through a variety of housing programs.

I would like to say . . .

Dear Housing Commission Committee: It is with great pleasure to apply to be a member of the City of San Jose Housing Commission. I believe my passion and experience provides a unique opportunity to contribute substantially to the Commission. As a Commissioner, I will bring thorough attention to detail, authenticity and a diverse perspective to the team. Since supervising and managing in the Corrections industry, I have witnessed unfathomable circumstances that opened my eyes and heart to what I call "an invisible population" – children of incarcerated or homeless parents. With high incarceration among minorities, children are adversely effected, and in most cases, left with nowhere to turn. In light of these circumstances, I felt compelled to fill a need; I created a non-profit. Embracing these children showed them that they are not invisible, yet invincible. Although self-funding, developing and executing operations for over 20 children, far outweighed every challenge. I am highly confident my ability to be results-driven, hardworking and interpersonal skills in being a team player will make me a valuable asset as District 1 Commissioner. Should you require additional materials, please contact me via email at scrawford08@gmail.com or cell at 818.212.0304. I look forward to hearing from you all within the next few weeks or so. Thank you in advance for your time and consideration. Sincerely, Shavell K. Crawford

I have been a consumer many of the various agencies in San Jose that deal with homelessness and housing. On the other hand, I have also been a homeowner and a person of means. I feel I am uniquely qualified to offer impartial opinions of problems which affect business owners, landowners, homeowners, as well as those caught in the struggle to find a place to live.

The Community Development Block Grant, one of the longest-running programs of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, funds local community development activities such as affordable housing, anti-poverty programs, and infrastructure development. CDBG, like other block grant programs, differ from categorical grants, made for specific purposes, in that they are subject to less federal oversight and are largely used at the discretion of the state and local governments and their subgrantees.

The Housing and Community Development Commission has a particular soft spot for me. First, I am resident and renter in San Jose and experience first hand the struggles of the rental market. Second, I have worked in real estate law since 2010, and I have dealt with hundreds of clients in the Bay Area and San Jose specifically. I have witnessed the struggle of finding housing, keeping it, and being able to work and live in the area. I think my specific experience in landlord tenant law, having my "boots" on the ground, I can provide information on what the community is looking for and how we can avoid disputes in the area. No one wins when housing is an issue in the area. Further, regarding community development, I think it is essential for the overall culture of the City. There is a housing crisis in San Jose, and I'd like to volunteer my time to help remedy the problem.

Please state any other information which you feel would be useful in reviewing your application

I have a genuine compassion for the community of San Jose and have an interest in contributing to the overall well being of the City. Real Estate is my passion and I work in it every day. As a real estate lawyer, I at times see the negative side of housing and community development, and I think that first hand experience can help contribute to finding solutions to the problems hindering the City. I am open minded and a great team member, and am willing to work with people of all backgrounds and experience. I feel that the solutions necessary in the area would take a team effort and people working together towards a common goal.

Have you ever attended a meeting of the Commission(s) to which you are applying?

Would you be available to attend meetings at the scheduled time?

Yes No

Please describe your experience in serving on a Commission or Board.

I have been a co-chair of the Palo Alto Area Bar Association-Real Estate Committee for just over a year. While my experience is limited in this regard, my experience in real estate is extensive. I have practiced in real estate exclusively for nearly 4 years, and I have dealt with hundreds of housing clients.

Considering your experience and activities in business, labor, professional, social, or other organizations, indicate the experience, training, knowledge and/or skills which qualify you for appointment to the selected commission(s).

I have been a real estate attorney in the area for nearly 4 years, and have kept myself apprised of real estate issues and law in San Jose specifically. Further, I frequently speak to and put on presentations in San Jose for Real Estate Brokers and Agents that deal with issues surrounding the City. I have also worked a lot with permitting and construction issues with the City, working through the permit and building process.

What is your understanding of the purpose of the Commission?

My understanding of the purpose of the Commission is that the Commission serves as a vehicle for the Community of San Jose to provide support, programs, and development that help improve the quality life for San Jose residents. Ultimately, the Commission's goal is to be innovative and creative in finding ways to improve housing and development that are sustainable for multiple generations. They also work as the governing body for issues affecting families around the City, providing solutions to issue that derive from the complexities of housing. The Commission is also an "opportunity creator" in my opinion, providing outside the box solutions by way of working together as a team.

Please list three issues facing the City that you feel the Commission should address.

1) Low-income housing: there is a major problem with the service industry. Many businesses are struggling to find employees that can afford to live in or around the area. Businesses are struggling because employees cannot afford housing in the area with the salary they make. 2) Rent control: I believe there are programs other cities have administered that San Jose can try and implement. For example, when there are landlord tenant disputes, having some kind of low cost or free mediation service to resolve the matter. While this comes at a cost, it saves a ton of court time and money down the road. Los Gatos has a good program that can be modeled after. 3) Perhaps consider expanding the Just Cause Ordinance to additional units. For example, many tenants are renting single family homes, it may be worth discussing extending the ordinance to those units. While it may bring heat from homeowners, the reality is that more and more renters are in those types of units, and protection is needed. I would be thrilled to contribute to any and all of these suggestions.

The future of our city is incredibly important and personal for me. The South Bay is where my parents immigrated to when they escaped from the spectre of communism and where I was born as a first generation American. San José is where I grew up and where I'd want my own kids to grow up, but the cost of living is a sore reminder that my generation faces significant hurdles to settling down where we were raised. I'm part of the generation that was told to work hard, study well, and we'd achieve the American Dream. I'm part of the millennial generation that is saddled with unprecedented student loan debt, impossible home prices, skyrocketing costs of living, and fierce career competition. I'm one of the many (but fortunate) millennials who once again live in their childhood bedroom instead of sacrificing half of our salary for rent. I want to make the American Dream possible for my generation and every other generation that currently or will call San José home. As a Commissioner, I would work with the rest of the Commission and the Housing Department on promoting policies that lead to a more accessible & affordable future for all residents. That means policies and resources that mitigate the harmful effects of gentrification, solve chronic homelessness, serve working class families, and help neighborhoods adapt into the future. I want to help meet San José goal of developing at least 35,080 new units of housing by 2023. In reviewing ideas and grants, I would work collaboratively with agencies and the Commission to promote smart-growth of our city. I would push for more infill projects of dilapidated or underused land to create more mixed-use, transit oriented, and affordable developments. With the new BART stations in San José, we have a cascade of new opportunities to promote smart, affordable growth. At the same time, I would like to minimize the harmful effects of urban sprawl that contributes to more traffic and environmental damage. A poignant reminder of our growing pains as a community is when often groups of neighbors fiercely reject projects and feel left out of discussions. This is especially true of supportive housing projects but resonates with smart-growth developments in general. As part of my nature and profession, I will try to actively engage groups and make them feel included - even if they traditionally are not - earlier on in the process. As a young person of color, I would also hope to bring in and engage more voices - people of color, renters, students, young people, and hopeful home-buyers - into our conversations about the best use of land in San José. I want to make the goal of living and working where you grew up attainable for all residents.

Please state any other information which you feel would be useful in reviewing your application

I'm a dedicated child of immigrants and have developed a habit of taking initiative to get things done for my community. At 19, I won my first elected office because I built coalitions of underrepresented students. At 20, I was the CEO of a $13 million nonprofit, working alongside transportation professionals to restructure our bus system. At 21, I was lobbying on behalf of all UC students, the UC President, Regents, and Lt. Governor Newsom to freeze tuition. At 22, I was advising a state senator on hundreds of bills covering housing, transportation, education, human services, and seniors. At 23, I've chosen to dedicate my passions for my hometown - even if it means living back at home with a modest wage. I want to serve the people of San José and help bring more voices to the table, especially of my generation. As a first generation Asian-American who grew up in this city, I'm grateful for this opportunity to serve.

Supplemental Questions

Have you ever attended a meeting of the Commission(s) to which you are applying?

Yes No

Would you be available to attend meetings at the scheduled time?

Yes No

Please describe your experience in serving on a Commission or Board.

I most recently served as Membership Director for the Asian Pacific Islander Capitol Association (APICA), I've always played the role of an active follower or attentive leader. A board should always be communicative and collaborative with one another to get things done. As Membership Director, I took directives from the board President such as with our ongoing API resume book for legislators, but also worked collaboratively with the rest of the board on my new ideas to recruit and retain API legislative staffers such as membership drives, informative panels, and strengthening our internship program. When it comes to board votes, I always strive for consensus. However, if there is disagreement, it should be fully debated and leave no hard feelings.

Considering your experience and activities in business, labor, professional, social, or other organizations, indicate the experience, training, knowledge and/or skills which qualify you for appointment to the selected commission(s).

My qualifications for the commission comes from both my personal and professional background. As I talked about prior, San José is my hometown. I grew up here, chose to relocate here, and want my kids to grow up here. The diversity and opportunity here need to be cherished, but also available for future generations. When I was 20 years old, I was the CEO of a $13 million nonprofit representing 29,000 undergraduates, managing a portfolio of services including cafeterias and a bus system. Even then I was fighting the housing crisis. As President of the UC Davis student body, I pushed the town from development gridlock to being productive for all. Prior to my term, no one was taking the housing crisis seriously. Working with students and locals, we changed a culture that didn't acknowledge the exponentially worsening housing condition for students - there were more and more being enrolled and fewer opportunities to rent. We created a Housing Taskforce of students to independently assess the housing shortage, showed up en masse to support projects, and helped pass several ballot measures like one to develop underutilized fields into student housing. At the State Capitol, I took that same knowledge and passion to be a legislative aide covering housing - among many other issue areas. Having a sharp understanding of the role of the state and the regional planning bodies, enables me to see the bigger picture clearly. I learned about the state's many roles and tools to assist cities in addressing our housing shortage: especially when it comes to funding for local governments or making it easier to streamline development of affordable housing, ADUs, or transit-oriented housing. Most importantly I learned that not every tool is appropriate for every community. We have to empower areas ready to grow and help preserve neighborhood character where it still thrives. Money and laws can always be adapted in the democratic process, it just depends on our political will to adapt with the challenges we face. As a current field representative for Assemblymember Evan Low, I purposefully bring my policy experience to assist the everyday needs of residents in the Bay Area. I was selected to cover the parts of San José in his district as well as on engage in housing issues because of my experience. I want to engage residents with the future of their city - the future they deserve. And I believe I have the skills, knowledge, and open-mind to get as many people to the planning table.

What is your understanding of the purpose of the Commission?

The Housing and Community Development Commission specifically advises the city government on issues related to the pressing need of housing as well as the federal Community Development Block Grant program. It reviews and suggests housing programs/policies to further stabilize, fund, and maintain neighborhood development. It also deals with the pressing issue of homelessness.

Please list three issues facing the City that you feel the Commission should address.

The Housing to Jobs Imbalance: streamline projects that create badly-needed affordable and market rate units
The Homelessness Crisis: need more supportive housing sites in appropriate locations and innovative measures like safe-parking
Transit-Oriented Development: Encourage more walkable and transit communities to reduce traffic and environmental impact

Question applies to Housing and Community Development Commission

What experience do you have with affordable housing issues?

While working for the State Legislature, I have worked on legislation affecting the production of housing, incentives for housing, and creative pipelines to construct more affordable housing. Just as the Federal Government provides dollars through the Community Development Block Grant Program, the State also can ease barriers to production of housing with the many bills that are now authored to address the housing crisis. Many of the tools and resources cities can utilize for community development are affected by the state. While a student representative, I advocate for the construction of more affordable units. In the city of Davis, where inclusionary zoning could be 25% of units, I organized locals and students to fight for new projects that would benefit the wider community including the students who come through the city. Since students are often on fixed or little income while paying high costs for education and living, affordable housing is hard to come by in the market and complicated governmentally if their income source is from their family. So while I realize fighting for more affordable housing units may not benefit all students, it gives more options to working students and working class families. From this experience I learned a lot about local politics and the federal/state/local laws governing development.

Question applies to Housing and Community Development Commission

Please explain your familiarity with the Community Development Block Grant Program?

The CDBG is allocated from the Federal Department of Housing & Urban Development to the State of California and local entities based on a formula of need for urban areas. The CDBG program is a tool for cities like San Jose to expand our affordable housing stock, implement services for low income families, and address blight & community development needs. The fund is awarded to nonprofit agencies and reviewed by the Commission.

I was born and raised in the city of San Jose, attending public schools here all my life. I recently graduated from Yale University, and know that I would not have had the incredible education opportunities I've had without the full support of my community in Almaden and in broader San Jose. Now that I am back home in San Jose I have the desire to have an impact and give back to my own community. But increasingly, I fear that the opportunities I had growing up are no longer available to San Jose residents. In the short time since I graduated my high school, went to college, and came back home, my home community has become increasingly stratified by wealth. In discussions with education professionals from my high school, I've heard firsthand about how my school has become less economically diverse since I've been gone. This is an injustice. As Housing and Community Development Commissioner, I want to make sure that we preserve the local character of our neighborhoods while also ensuring that more San Jose residents can have the opportunities I've had. I grew up in Almaden, and the strong community and resources there gave me the opportunity to go to Yale University on a full scholarship. I value Almaden's unique local character. At the same time, I've had the opportunity to be a tour guide for my friends who visit from out of state, showing off San Jose's thriving downtown. I want to continue to ensure that our city is the jewel of Silicon Valley. This includes monitoring the revitalization of South First Street, as well as ensuring that our local residents and small business owners aren't forced out with the development of the Google complex downtown.

Please state any other information which you feel would be useful in reviewing your application

As a young person of color, I would bring important diversity and representation as well as new perspectives to the Housing and Community Development, tempered by my deep public policy experience at all levels of local, state, and federal government.

Supplemental Questions

Have you ever attended a meeting of the Commission(s) to which you are applying?

Yes No

Would you be available to attend meetings at the scheduled time?

Yes No

Please describe your experience in serving on a Commission or Board.

I do not have prior experience in serving on a Commission or Board. I hope to use this opportunity to deepen my community involvement. That said, I bring extensive experience with public policy at the local, state, and federal level.

Considering your experience and activities in business, labor, professional, social, or other organizations, indicate the experience, training, knowledge and/or skills which qualify you for appointment to the selected commission(s).

In my current role, I serve as Political Director for a statewide gubernatorial candidate. As her Political Director, I advise her on policy issues including housing. I've traveled the state and seen that housing issues require a regional solution, not a top-down, one-size-fits all approach from Sacramento. My job has required me to keep abreast of developments in housing in the Bay Area and across the state. I've had to brief the candidate in depth on these issues and prepare her for interviews and editorial board meetings. My experience across the state has taught me that the work of local residents, and bodies such as the Planning Commission, is especially important. The work and voices of these local bodies will be necessary to shaping a truly effective housing policy. In addition, I've been deeply interested in housing issues for the past several years. I've met with and learned from some of the people on the forefront of housing issues throughout the Bay Area, both activists and business and policy groups, especially in the city of San Jose. I've made it a point to meet with all sides, from renters to homeowners, from residents to business groups. Finally, I have longtime public policy experience in technology policy. In addition to advising on technology issues in my current role as Political Director, I worked on technology issues for Secretary Hillary Clinton in her Brooklyn headquarters in 2015-2016. This work focused on making sure that people aren't squeezed out and left behind with the onset of technological change. As Planning Commissioner, this experience would be vital to monitoring the development of the Google complex near Diridon Station in downtown San Jose.

What is your understanding of the purpose of the Commission?

The purpose of the Commission is to advise the Council on housing issues, such as voting on whether to recommend the budget for housing and homelessness programs. They also serve as a link for the community and for stakeholders to voice their concerns on these issues.

Please list three issues facing the City that you feel the Commission should address.

-Preserving the character of our San Jose neighborhoods. Almaden is not the same as downtown, and these differences make our city vibrant -Working with our regional bodies, such as counties and surrounding cities, to ensure a comprehensive approach to development. My experience in local, county, and state government will be a valuable addition to the Commission -Ensuring that city residents are not forced out and left behind with the Google complex development downtown

What experience do you have with affordable housing issues?

I understand the issue from a firsthand basis because I've lived through the problems of our lowest-income residents. My parents came to the United States in search of a better life. When I was growing up, they managed to achieve their dream of buying a home. In order to earn money so I could have the college education my parents never could, my family opened up a small business. Unfortunately, during the financial crisis, we lost both our business and our home, which was foreclosed upon. For a time I was without a home. Today, my family rents. Yet we continue to struggle with the high cost of living in San Jose. My parents have made sacrifices so I could attend the best public schools in San Jose, and because of that, I've been fortunate enough to go on and graduate from Yale University. But these opportunities are increasingly unavailable to more and more of our residents.

Question applies to Housing and Community Development Commission

Please explain your familiarity with the Community Development Block Grant Program?

My understanding of the CDBG program is that it is a federally administered program run by HUD, which distributes money for localities to be used for community development. As a block grant program, the federal government leaves significant discretion to localities with regards to how to use the funding, making the work of the Commission especially important in making recommendations to the Council.

When I applied to HCDC 4 years ago, I wrote in my application, "The Housing and Community Development Commission is tackling some of the most crucial issues that our city is facing right now." I believe this is even truer now than it was then. For this simple reason, I'd be honored to continue to serve. I feel such a sense of purpose on this Commission because it strives to provide advice to the Housing Department & the City Council on how to protect housing for some of our cities most vulnerable people. As a Commissioner, I'll continue to work to provide input to the Housing Department on housing policies they are researching, proposing & implementing. When possible, I'll look to find consensus among commissioners, like I did when it came to letters I have (co-)authored in the last year on family-friendly housing and the Ellis Act. I continue to believe that citizen commissions can produce promising policy ideas and make a difference in our policy debates. I was proud of our thoughtful votes on issues such as just cause protections and the Ellis Act that were seemingly helpful to the City Council. The City is a major leader in our state on affordable housing issues and I would love playing a role in that. My objectives as a Commissioner are to a) to raise questions and provide counsel to City staff that assist them in their work; b) work collaboratively with my fellow Commissioners to bring forward community perspectives about housing issues and ensure HCDC is run responsively, fairly, thoughtfully and smoothly; c) help the City uncover, brainstorm, analyze & pilot new housing policies that protect tenants, preserve affordable housing & build new housing.

Please state any other information which you feel would be useful in reviewing your application

I am on the Board of the nonprofit Catayze SV, but that hasn't yet presented a conflict of interest. I am a community engagement consultant to VTA who works on the project to extend BART into Silicon Valley. When I believe the rare item before HCDC concerns VTA, I abstain from voting or recuse myself. As the City Attorney's office pointed out, sometimes it is the perception of a conflict that matters. I think that is sound advice.

Supplemental Questions

Have you ever attended a meeting of the Commission(s) to which you are applying?

Yes No

Would you be available to attend meetings at the scheduled time?

Yes No

Please describe your experience in serving on a Commission or Board.

I currently serve on HCDC, the Board of the organization Catalyze SV, and a committee of community members advocating to get a San Jose street renamed. I have also served on the Board of my neighborhood association, Shasta Hanchett-Park, as well as the Grand Boulevard Initiative related to El Camino Real. My experience with HCDC is to spend as much time as I can preparing for meetings before they occur. Each has its own dynamics and I try to adapt to each one in order to make as much of a difference as I can. As someone who frequently speaks at public meetings myself to decision-makers, I respect the public who comes to speak at HCDC meetings and focus my attention on listening intently to them. I love serving on HCDC! I maintain a respectful tone toward my fellow Commissioners and the guests who come to our meetings. I almost always fulfill my commitments to contribute; when I am not able to do, I explain why I cannot well in advance. I strive to treat Housing Department staff with respect by being complimentary of, and grateful for, their efforts in public and private.

Considering your experience and activities in business, labor, professional, social, or other organizations, indicate the experience, training, knowledge and/or skills which qualify you for appointment to the selected commission(s).

With a commitment in my career and my personal life to community engagement, my current involvement in Midtown San Jose, my contributions to Silicon Valley-based nonprofit boards, my training in public administration, my years of experience working in government, my knowledge of policy as an aide to a Santa Clara County Supervisor, my intense interest in housing issues and my passion for San Jose, I think I would make an excellent fit for this Commission. In my previous job as a policy aide, I covered land use, planning, development and code enforcement issues. I frequently responded to constituent concerns regarding neighborhood quality of life issues such as blight. I interfaced with developers who own empty parcels or those planned for redevelopment, acting as a broker between the Supervisor, the community and the developer. In February 2015, I played a key role in assisting my boss proposal of an Urban Agriculture Incentive Zone in Santa Clara County. The idea is that developers with empty or blighted land of up to three acres who dedicate the land to urban agriculture exclusively for five years receive a reduced property tax assessment from the County. This creates an incentive for developers to rent their land to urban agriculture organizations or businesses to start urban farms and community gardens. The resulting urban agriculture reduces blight, increases community access to healthy food and could even increase property values for nearby residents. I have worked or been on the board of nonprofit organizations so I give consideration to how public monies are used to support quality outcomes through nonprofit services. As a student of public administration, I learned about the difference between causation versus correlation when it comes to policy solutions and try to keep that in mind on the issues we consider. As a housing commissioner, I have worked with housing department staff, outside policy experts, community members, and my fellow commissioners to offer ideas to the Commission, city staff, and in turn the City Council. Some of those have been purely educational topics, such as the time I secured San Jose community members who built a renters right app to present it to the Commission. In May 2019, I'm co-presenting an idea to the Commission about cities in the US and world that tax empty homes & empty storefronts to see if we can learn anything from these places. The current Commission has been very lucky to have Housing staff who are true collaborators with the Commission. They do a fantastic job letting Commissioners bring forward their own ideas while not overloading them with an increased workload. This is a crucial balance needed to ensure staff can focus on their and the City Council's top priorities.

What is your understanding of the purpose of the Commission?

Like its counterpart citizen commissions in San Jose and in other jurisdictions, the purpose of this Commission is to advise the Mayor and City Council on policy issues and ideas related to community development and housing. HCDC can also be a conduit for the community to provide input to the Housing Department. In turn, we can help inform fellow community members about city policies and current housing issues. For instance, sometimes people ask me about issues such as when they are facing an illegal eviction and I see it as my responsibility to provide them the phone number for the Housing Department to report these issues to make sure everyone is following city policies. I believe Commissioners should be able to bring ideas to the Commission for discussion. I've also heard feedback from Housing Department staff that presenting issues to HCDC before they present them to the City Council allows them a chance to prepare. The questions or concerns we may raise during their presentations may help them consider new angles so they are ready for the City Council's potential discussion. I'm glad HCDC can help in this way.

Please list three issues facing the City that you feel the Commission should address.

Obviously, the biggest overarching issues facing the Commission are advising the City on how to preserve and build as much affordable housing in San Jose as possible. In terms of some issues HCDC could perhaps tackle under this umbrella: - I'd like to see how HCDC can support Housing staff and the Mayor in implementing the housing crisis workplan. - Seeing if we could find more solutions to homelessness, such as sanctioned encampments and/or more tiny home communities - If the City Council does decide to reopen the Ellis Act, I'd like HCDC to offer input on it from a community perspective. - The 2018-2019 NOFA from the Housing Department provided $100 million in funding for building housing. Housing staff indicated that the next NOFA will contain far less money. I'd like to see if we could come up with ideas that could increase Housing Department funding for building/preserving/refurbishing housing in SJ. - I wonder if we can do more on prohibiting discrimination against those with housing vouchers such as Section 8. - I also wonder if we could find a way to ensure those who live in mobile home parks aren't displaced, including potentially providing them another housing option that has a longer-term future. - The Council has weighed in on this already, yet I'd like to see the City reconsider bringing duplexes into the rent stabilization ordinance. - I feel the Commission should also address how to support the city in how it can make it easier to build more housing near transit, including with fewer parking requirements.

Question applies to Housing and Community Development Commission

What experience do you have with affordable housing issues?

The Housing Commission frequently analyzes and votes on affordable housing issues, including tenant protections, mobile home park, rent stabilization, and new affordable housing developments. As a co-founder & Board member of the nonprofit organization Catalyze SV, which advocates for better development, I have relationships with nonprofit and for-profit developers. Through these interactions, I have learned about some of the considerations and constraints of developers when they build and manage housing, including affordable housing. Catalyze SV evaluates market-rate and affordable housing proposals, provides input on how developers can improve them, and advocates regarding them. Two of Catalyze SV's core values are 1) inclusive, diverse communities; and 2) housing solutions for all. We advocate for affordable housing units to be incorporated into new development. We also advocate for housing for folks at all levels, including those who are of the lowest incomes in San Jose, people in the "missing middle," and those with more resources. In November 2018, I planned a roundtable discussion for the community on affordable housing that featured speakers I recruited, including an affordable housing lender (Housing Trust SV), an affordable housing builder (Charities Housing), an affordable housing advocacy org (SV@Home), and an affordable housing resident. I moderated this discussion.

Question applies to Housing and Community Development Commission

Please explain your familiarity with the Community Development Block Grant Program?

CDBG funds come from HUD. San Jose's CDBG grants go to rehab housing, support development of neighborhood leaders, and provide meals for seniors. There are restrictions on where the funding can be directed. Many of the CDBG funds go to nonprofit services providers. As I recall, some funding goes to pay for City of San Jose administrative fees. HCDC hear a regular report on the City's proposed funding and offers input on the grants every year to the Housing Department. I've tried to provide input to the City specifically asking staff to help quantify the benefits/outcomes of neighborhood engagement funding.

Question applies to Housing and Community Development Commission

Do you have experience in any of the following areas? *

- Development
- Community Development
- Homeless Services

I would like to say . . .

Working for VTA, I have been involved in crafting VTA's policy on responding to homeless encampments on its property. As part of this work, I analyzed how 55 transit agencies in North America respond to homelessness and advised VTA on its policies and initiatives to address homelessness. In that role with VTA, I also interfaced with City of San Jose staff and nonprofit service providers such as HomeFirst that respond to encampments. Regrettably because it is a sad occurrence, I have arranged and been present for at least one homeless encampment abatement on VTA land. I have also been present when Home First notified homeless individuals of a forthcoming abatement. Again, as a leader of Catalyze SV, we talk with developers about their projects and analyze them. In terms of community development, I have been an urban agriculture advocate as a community member and a policy aide. For multiple years, I led the effort to open up a new farmers market at Lincoln HS. It opened in May 2008. It is a partnership between the high school, the school district, the neighborhood district, and the operator of the market.

The rising cost of housing is the most destructive factor against the common good of our city. I want to work on this difficult problem, to offer what help I can, and my skills and personality would fit well on the Housing and Community Development Commission. My specific objectives are: 1) To manage gentrification. Some amount of community change is inevitable, but we need to work towards rather than letting the market dictate our choices. 2) To build community. Where we live can be more than just where we sleep. The city ought to support true, deep community in its neighborhoods.

My wife and I are renters ourselves, so Housing Commission decisions could affect our rent. Also, we both work for Servant Partners, a ministry agency that serves under-resourced neighborhoods. Decisions of the commission could (and hopefully would) affect the lives of our neighbors and, indirectly, our work.

Supplemental Questions

Have you ever attended a meeting of the Commission(s) to which you are applying?

Yes No

Would you be available to attend meetings at the scheduled time?

Yes No

Please describe your experience in serving on a Commission or Board.

I have never served on a city commission or board. But, sixteen years ago, I served as a Public Ally. (Public Allies is an Americorps service program in which young adults spend a year apprenticing at a non-profit and meeting together for trainings and projects.) My team's project was to advise and mentor the Youth Commission. Ever since then, I have imagined myself one-day serving on a city commission.

Considering your experience and activities in business, labor, professional, social, or other organizations, indicate the experience, training, knowledge and/or skills which qualify you for appointment to the selected commission(s).

The organization I work for, Servant Partners, aims to foster transformation in urban poor neighborhoods by moving in and practicing asset-based community development. So, I have lived in the Washington-Guadalupe neighborhood for the past eight years, endeavoring to make my neighbors' concerns my own. I see the housing crisis through their eyes, as much as I can. At the same time, I am a student by nature, and I have studied the issue both sociologically and theologically. I believe that I have experience and knowledge which would be unique and useful on the Housing and Community Development Commission.

What is your understanding of the purpose of the Commission?

The commission advises the City Council on matters of housing and community development. Its responsibility is to attend to both the best practices and guidelines of housing policy, which means studying the subject, and to the needs and desires of San Jose's citizens, which means staying connected to the people. Recommendations should reflect both sources.

Please list three issues facing the City that you feel the Commission should address.

Gentrification -- neighborhoods are losing their identity, and neighbors are losing their homes. At the same time, newcomers are not the enemy. We need to find a way to partner for the good of all.
Homelessness -- we are one of the most prosperous cities in the world, yet thousands remain unhoused every night on our streets. Socioeconomic diversity -- so often our residents are siloed into economically homogeneous neighborhoods. But studies and experience show that this contributes to class disparities and immobility.

Question applies to Housing and Community Development Commission

What experience do you have with affordable housing issues?

I have worked with many neighbors trying to find housing. In particular, with Servant Partners, we host a two-year internship for young urban ministers, and we require them to find housing in our neighborhoods. So, every two years, I am acutely aware of our housing supply and affordability struggles. I have had multiple friends relocate to the central valley due to housing prices in San Jose.

Question applies to Housing and Community Development Commission

Please explain your familiarity with the Community Development Block Grant Program?

The CDBG is federal funding that is administered by local government, aimed at building housing, infrastructure and community. The Housing and Community Development Commission advises on how to use San Jose's allocated CDBG funds. My personal connection to the program comes from being involved in my neighborhood association, which sometimes applied for CDBG grants to fund community projects.

I currently work with humans that fall into the homelessness, transitional, re-entry, under-served, under-privileged populations. My primary responsibilities encompass the development of programs that increase economic opportunities for individuals and their families. Over and over again, the issue of housing is an extremely limiting factor when it comes to economic empowerment and sustainability. I believe that I can be a voice to represent the clients I work with everyday to effect change in housing and community development policies.

Please state any other information which you feel would be useful in reviewing your application

I am a current member of the first Santa Clara County Lived Experience Advisory Board. In the past, I succumbed to an addiction to alcohol that I continue to overcome one day at a time. It has been 13 years since I became sober, and because of this, I feel like I could be an advocate for the people that are currently struggling through similar issues compounded by homelessness and poverty.

Please describe your experience in serving on a Commission or Board.

I have served on various boards since 2003, serving in capacities from members of the board of directors to committee chairmanships. The boards that I served on as a student include Student Union, Incorporated and Associated Students, Incorporated while at SJSU, and on the board of community organizations such as United Vietnamese Student Associations and the Union of North American Vietnamese Student Associations as an alumnus. Currently, I serve on two boards, Vietnamese American Roundtable, Inc. and Youth Changing Society, Inc., an organization that focuses on engaging with those who seek to create a civil society in Vietnam. I am also a current member of the Housing and Community Development Commission.

Considering your experience and activities in business, labor, professional, social, or other organizations, indicate the experience, training, knowledge and/or skills which qualify you for appointment to the selected commission(s).

I have been a member of the Housing and Community Development Commission for nearly two years. In that capacity, I have learned how the Commission and the Housing Department operates. I have also become familiar with the programs and policy issues that are overseen by the Commission, including the Ellis Act, Just Cause Evictions, and homeless prevention.

What is your understanding of the purpose of the Commission?

The Housing and Community Development Commission plays an advisory role for housing matters to the elected representatives of the city of San Jose.

Please list three issues facing the City that you feel the Commission should address.

The Commission's top priority should be generating ideas to increase the housing supply for the LI, VLI, and ELI population. The City is on track to meet its market rate housing goals, but falling far behind on its goals to meet affordable housing goals. Second, the City should prioritize the assessment of how additional housing will affect the ability of the City to continue its current level of services, such as garbage and law enforcement. Third, the City should work with its communities, developers, and other stakeholders to develop a plan to boost the housing supply while matching any growth in the need for services or resources for the additional residents who move in to San Jose.

Additionally, with over 30 years of hands-on experience in the real estate and housing arena, as well as over 15 years directing and managing IT operations for Fortune 500 organizations in Silicon Valley that include but not limited to Cisco and Apple, I bring operational experiences to assist in navigating the delicate balance between the needs and wants of our community.

I have been a member of HCDC for the past three years. I have been very proud to contribute to such important issues facing my city. I take the position very seriously I prepare very diligently for meetings and participate fully in the discussions. I often attend additional events such public meetings on HCDC issues, the Diridon SAAG meetings including housing working group meetings, and community meetings. For the past year, I have been honored to be Chair of HCDC. I have tried to make the meetings as productive as possible. One thing I am very proud of is working with Kristen Clements and Shasta Green to bring commissioner-initiated topics to the Commission. By doing so, we presented timely positions on commercial impact fees, the Diridon SAAG report, among others. I very much would like to continue my work on the Housing and Community Development Commission.

Yes No

Would you be available to attend meetings at the scheduled time?

Yes No

Please describe your experience in serving on a Commission or Board.

As a parent and active PTA member, I participated in several commissions at San Jose Unified School District, the Santa Clara County Office of Education, and the PTA. I was a parent representative to the SJUSD Budget Advisory Committee for three years. I learned to read and understand a complex budget that included many statutory limitations and requirements. I also served on the Wellness and Emergency Advisory Committees. While not a member, I participated actively in the Bond Oversight Committee during approval and implementation of the Measure F Bond. I also served on the Wellness Committee at SCCOE. From these experiences, I am familiar with Brown Act requirements. In addition to being President of the San Jose Unified PTA Council for two years, I was the Parliamentarian for San Jose Unified PTA Council for two years and Assistant Parliamentarian for the Santa Clara County PTA District for two years. In these roles I was trained in the use of Articles of Incorporation/Bylaws/Standing Rules and in the use of Parliamentary Procedures. Please contact SJUSD Board Member Pam Foley at pam@foleymg.com for references.

Considering your experience and activities in business, labor, professional, social, or other organizations, indicate the experience, training, knowledge and/or skills which qualify you for appointment to the selected commission(s).

I am a Patent Agent at Quantcast Corporation with an engineering background. I am very good at grasping complex information. If needed, I can read long, complicated documents and also meeting with experts to better understand the material. I have excellent interpersonal skills and I think that is critical in working in a team environment like the Housing Commission.

My understanding of the Housing Commission is that it addresses and make recommendations about housing issues in the City of San Jose including issues such as: rent control mobile home park conversions affordable housing (high density) housing near mass transit and employment centers mix of single family, townhouse, condo, apartment housing discrimination in housing renter protection landlord protection

Please list three issues facing the City that you feel the Commission should address.

Three issues that I feel strongly about and that the Commission should address are: rent control: how to protect long term renters, how to prevent abuse, how to provide adequate rent increases to landlords affordable housing: how to provide affordable housing through rent control, mix of housing available, specially designated affordable housing projects housing near mass transit/work centers: what is the appropriate mix of housing to develop, how to provide amenities as well as housing

What experience do you have with affordable housing issues?

My grandparents never owned a home and were subject to eviction and rent increases until rent control was established. (This was in Boston, MA) I have a work colleague who was forced to leave the Bay Area because her rent was increased and she could not find alternative housing that she could afford. I have recently looked into building an ADU in my backyard.
