Adopt the Move San José plan, and Transit First Policy, affirming the City’s commitment to prioritizing walking, cycling, and transit, with the additional direction:

1. Among the “Next Steps” for the Move San Jose Plan identified on pages 9-10 of the Staff memo, Staff should focus on those specific steps that are both (a) within the control and purview of City staff and the Council, and (b) implementable within the next 24 months, namely the items listed under the following strategies:

- a. “Safer Streets”
- b. “Maintain and Build Bicycle and Pedestrian Infrastructure”
- c. “Encourage Electric Vehicles”
- d. “Encourage and Allow Carshare”
- e. “Transportation Demand Management”
- f. “Smart Parking Policy”

2. Return in the upcoming budget process with near-term actions and funding recommendations that can advance the goals of the Move San José plan. Additionally, show how future internal budget decisions are aligned with the Move San José plan.

5.1 (Cont'd.)

3. Ensure that grant applications at the regional, state and federal level are crafted to align with the goals of the Move San José Plan, and Transit First Policy.
4. Under the EV policy section of Move San José, include the following addition: Identify public-private partnership opportunities to increase EV equitability, affordability and accessibility.
5. Either drop the exploration of any new transportation impact fees (TIF), or prior to consideration of any new fees, staff shall review, and return to Council with analysis of:
  - a. Experience of the $13-to-15 per-square-foot TIF in North San Jose on development for the last two decades under the North San Jose Plan created in 2005. Specifically, staff should consult local landowners and builders, and our own OED and Planning staff, to understand the extent to which the TIF has inhibited the City from meeting even the very minimal office and industrial square footage threshold articulated in the first phase four-phase North San Jose plan, some 15 years later.
  - b. The impacts of the recently-imposed Vehicle-Miles-Traveled (VMT) fee on development in economically vital areas like North San Jose and Edenvale, and whether this TIF is intended to supplant or supplement that fee.
  - c. The “cost of development” studies performed by two independent consultants for the City in the last half-decade, and whether any new construction of housing or office is currently deemed financially feasible.
  - d. The City’s failure to meet even its minimal housing construction goals since the Great Recession, and whether additional fees will help.
  - e. Given the current market reality that only heavily subsidized, affordable housing can get financing in today’s market, provide feedback from affordable housing builders about whether the TIF fee will be borne by affordable housing.
  - f. The stark difference in much more robust industrial, commercial and office development over the last two decades in our smaller suburbs, such as Santa Clara, Sunnyvale, and Mountain View, relative to the paltry development in San José.
6. Staff to report back on key performance indicators outlined in the Move San José Plan to the Transportation and Environment (T&E) Committee on an annual basis.
7. Ensure and specifically reflect in the upcoming Downtown Transportation Plan how elements of the Move San José and Transit First Policy are integrated and implemented, where feasible.
8. When implementing the Transit First Policy, focus “transit first” improvements on corridors with the highest transit use and service corridors, while also considering equity as a major prioritization factor.
9. To help the Council better understand the concrete implications of the Transit First Policy, consult with VTA staff to identify any differences in how the two agencies view the (1) impact of the City's programming of the traffic signals along North First Street upon the operations of light rail, and (2) BRT operations in Downtown San José. Return to Council or the T&E committee with a clear description of those conflicts, and specifically describe whether, in light of this Transit First Policy, the City will alter either its (1) approach to signal prioritization along North First Street, or (2) its parking and roadway operations on Santa Clara Street.

5.1 (Cont'd.)

10. Clarify that implementation of the Transit First Policy should:
- when possible, align with and advance the goals of Vision Zero,
  - where appropriate and informed by our Vision Zero goals, the Department of Transportation (DOT) allocate and prioritize road space for walking, bicycling, and transit uses.

Also including Vice Mayor Chappie Jones memorandum dated August 9, 2022, to:
Adopt a resolution approving the Citywide transportation plan, Move San José, with the following additions to Strategy 17: Micro-transit and On-Demand Service:

- Prioritize the development and implementation of a micro-transit program.
- Direct staff to return with funding options for a micro-transit program.

With further direction to Staff to work with the Planning Department to include the Curtner-Tully review as a Grand Boulevard, offering a process clarification that would be an amendment to the General Plan.
