

Steering the right course for AI

Tower 1853
June 13, 2019
12-1pm

We live in the most innovative community in the country, and our city mayor and council offices should be up-to-date about the latest technological advancements and trends, including how human biases intersect with the use of data and technology. In this meeting, we will hear about charting the right course for AI/Google AI Cloud's initiatives in fairness in AI. Rajen Sheth, VP of Product Management at Google, and Tracy Frey, Director of Cloud AI at Google, will discuss their perspective on this issue.

1. Call to Order
2. Presentation on steering the right course for AI
3. Q&A with attendees
