Fifth Cycle Housing Element Highlights

- Met 62% of total housing production goals
 - Met 115% of market-rate goal
 - Met only 26% of affordable housing goal
- Affordable housing production achieved despite limited funding resources
 - Ex. LIHTC is 14% of total statewide need
 - San José exceeded local, regional, and statewide fifth cycle RHNA averages
- Completed almost all (83 of 85 items, or 98%) of the planned fifth cycle programs, policies, or activities

CY 2022 Residential Building Permit Performance

Cumulative RHNA Performance

Housing Market and Activity

- Rental market as of Q4 2022 - strengthening
 - Rents down 3% QoQ but up 5% YoY
 - Vacancies 5.5% overall (7.6% Class A but only 4.2% Class C)
- For-sale market as of Q4 2022 - cooling
 - Median SF price down 10% QoQ & 12% YoY
 - High interest rates (6.42% 30-yr) make homes less affordable
- Slight increase in building permit activity in 2022
 - 1,791 units permitted (7% increase from 2021)
 - 53% of permitted units in Urban Villages (up from 42% in 2021)
 - 449 building permits increased for ADUs (up from 421 in 2021)

Housing Strategies: Production
