As an Electrical Industry expert, I believe my background meshes well with the work this commission is trying to accomplish. It is imperative we move towards a cleaner energy infrastructure. My experience in the field could rapidly help the City continue to move in that direction. The lack of training for many in the electrical field causes more waste, and energy usage inefficiencies. Since I am coming from the construction side, I have insights on the practicality of building, and how to streamline many processes for efficiency purposes.

Please describe your experience in serving on a Commission or Board.

Considering your experience and activities in business, labor, professional, social, or other organizations, indicate the experience, training, knowledge and/or skills which qualify you for appointment to the selected commission(s).

I am a graduate of a State-approved Electrical Apprenticeship program, here in Santa Clara County. I now teach at the same institution. I have been in the Electrical industry for 8 years, serving in many capacities. I have worked in the construction side, as well as the business side doing service estimating.

What is your understanding of the purpose of the Commission?

The Commission provides feedback and input on the development of strategy and operating principles or models, informs the prioritization and development of energy programs, identifies areas of concern as well as innovative opportunities for reducing carbon emissions, monitors best practices of other Community Choice Energy programs, legislative and regulatory issues, and new energy developments, and be liaisons to the community for purposes of advocacy and outreach.

Please list three issues facing the City that you feel the Commission should address.

1. Addressing the use of an lower skilled and under trained workforce, and how it effects energy efficiencies. 2. Understanding the practical applications of municipalization. 3. Upgrade of energy grid, and the use of commercial battery storage back-up systems

If you indicated you meet the requirements for a Special Eligibility Seat on the Human Services Commission, please provide a short background as to how you meet those requirements.

Question applies to Parks and Recreation Commission

Please describe your experience in working with governmental agencies.

I have worked an analyst both for Riverside county and the mayors office in Riverside. I have presented reports to various department heads regarding various issues.

Question applies to Parks and Recreation Commission

As a Parks and Recreation Commissioner, how would you handle a situation where you have a volatile Community group which is opposed to a staff proposal?

By trying to educate the public and trying to come up with solutions collectively that help to foster better group dynamics and finding common ground to issues.

Can you provide examples of major public policy issues that you have been involved in and what your role was in the issue?

One major public policy issue that I did extensive research and formulated a report on was the bolstering of Riverside's city charter. There was some debate about the fact that the mayor had a weak role and this needed to be strengthened as many constituents were unaware of their council members and looked to the mayor as a political leader. Unfortunately the charter did not give him a lot of power which inevitably led to a lawsuit between the city and the mayor where he had to sue the city in order to prevent a raise hike for the city manager. This issue was salient in the following year when the city's charter review came up and I did a lot of research on various cities and their forms of government.

I would like to say . . .

That I'm passionate about local government and believe a participatory electorate helps to foster a strong community, one in which people come together to solve problems. It is my belief that these boards and commissions help to usher in this notion of community driven solutions.

Supplemental Questions

Please list your community involvement, including jobs and volunteer work.

With three years of leadership experience, I currently serve as the Student Body Vice-President for the entire school. My role in ASB (Associated Student Body) is to represent the needs of every student, to ultimately progress toward an inclusive student community. As of now, we have coordinated school events to increase student participation and school spirit on campus, as well as listening to the concerns of the entire school community. For example, after receiving complaints about the dress code from numerous students, we are now working with our School Affairs Commissioner who attends the School Site Council Meetings to modify the dress code and better suit their needs. Another great example that highlights our impact on campus is our community benefit projects. Every year, the upcoming leadership board brainstorms a way that they could directly benefit the community. We have been able to come up with Supplies with Scholars which is essentially an initiative to provide necessary school supplies to those that wouldn't otherwise be able to afford. This previous year, I had the great opportunity of participating in my District 7 Youth Advisory Council (YAC). As a general member, I collaborated with my District 7 peers, including the former District Commissioner to create a District Project. Our District Project is aimed to tackle an issue that would hopefully do good to the youth of San Jose. We, as a collective, noticed recent problems with how the police were portrayed in a negative light to the youth. With that in mind, we decided to plan a day where police officers and teenagers would be able to engage in bonding activities and eat dinner to break the "bad cop" paradigm. I am also apart of Breakthrough Silicon Valley being a tutor. Breakthrough Silicon Valley is a program focused on the academic excellence of motivated, low-income students with limited educational opportunities to prepare them for four-year colleges. As a tutor in the program, I help the students to improve their organizational skills to better manage their school work. In particular, I educate them on the importance of using a planner and the importance of having their school work organized. The summer I was also selected to be a tutor for the Read Write Discover program. It is a nonprofit organization that aims to combat illiteracy by giving children access to tutors over the summer. One of my main responsibilities was to work with younger children to help them develop and improve their reading and writing skills to better prepare them for the upcoming school year. Lastly, I am apart of a community service club called Interact. As a member, I volunteered in a variety of events ranging from working in a soup kitchen for the homeless and participating in a school beautification day to decorating the Senior Center for Christmas. Interact club encourages teenagers, like me to help and improve our community. Last year, we had a project called "The Right to Thrive" and its mission was to inspire hope through adversity. With this goal, we hope to empower our community of LGBTQ+ and those of minority all around the Bay Area.

In one paragraph, please explain your community interests.

As D7 Youth Commissioner, my community interests will be based on the inclusivity of the youth. Today in this very moment, youth are being challenged more than ever on their ability to effect change in our community. Their voices sometimes put down, not heard, or feeling worthless. I am aware this because I have experienced it myself. Yet, this experience places me at a unique crossroads. As a teenager, I recognize how undervalued the youth are. I also see the power that we have as a collective. If selected to be a Youth Commissioner it would be my purpose to include every youth voice. I want to be able to create that safe environment where youth are actively engaged with decisions that affect them.

What do you feel are some of the problems facing the youth of San Jose?

Within this thriving community, there are so many motivated teenagers and children filled with great potential and promise to being the future leaders of San Jose; however, these very same people are also the ones to be quickly faced with problems that negatively impact them. From my own experience, I can speak out on one of these problems that is an insane amount of inequality occurring in school. School is supposed to be an environment where students are deliberately supported and encouraged to succeed. However, how can this environment be sustained if the resources simply aren't available to students. This problem occurs especially to minority groups and even first-generation student. The playing field is not to their advantage. Another problem that is ongoing is public safety. Public safety itself is a very broad subject where many things fall underneath this umbrella. Two of them would include youth gang affiliation and the drug and alcohol abuse. Just recently, I learned that my neighborhood, Seven Trees, was a gang hot spot. This is scary to me because there is a community center within Seven Trees where youth often come to but can also be a place of negative influence. Furthermore, a newer emerging problem in San Jose for the youth is a bad well-being resulted from a poor mental health. 20 percent of youth ages 13-18 live with a mental health condition. Because of this, stigma and discrimination are created against mental illnesses. Teenagers encounter much more in their daily lives, such as bullying and stress which all contributes to a poorer environment for the youth to thrive in.

What do you feel the priorities of the Youth Commission should be?

As a Youth Commission, I believe the priorities should be the following: What can we do to help our community? How can Youth be more involved? How do we include every Youth input? The Youth Commission is made up of a diverse board. Everyone has their own knowledge and experiences, but I think it is important to collaborate and combine our knowledge of our community and skill sets to improve and to develop our community. We need to work with other peers to leverage their voices and ideas to enhance our people and our community. Participating in these types of discussions or even starting the conversation on this is what we really need in order to begin to understand their situations and to begin solving them. With that, as the Youth Commission, we should work to provide support to those within our community that will benefit not only the general population, but as well as minority groups. Great responsibilities and impact come with the role of being in the Youth Commission, which is why it is most important for us to advocate for the Youth.

I would like to say . . .

At this very moment in history, youth are being challenged more than ever on their ability to make a change in the community. Their voices sometimes being put down, not heard, or feeling meritless. My intentions are clear and simple. The title of D7 Youth Commissioner is not what I am after at all. But instead, it is the responsibilities and impact on the Youth community that I would be able to accomplish as D7 Youth Commissioner. I have amassed significant learning experience from my time in YAC, other Youth Commission events, and even my school's student body council that make me ready for the job as D7 Youth Commissioner. I have what it takes to fulfill all the needs of District 7 and take it even beyond.

Please describe your experience in serving on a Commission or Board.

I am an active participant and get involved in group discussions and activities, join a committee, and also being creative in coming up with new project which I am willing to lead if needed.

Considering your experience and activities in business, labor, professional, social, or other organizations, indicate the experience, training, knowledge and/or skills which qualify you for appointment to the selected commission(s).

Between 2000 and 2015 I was the executive director of Voices United, a nonprofit that provided information and educational and preventative services on Substance Use Prevention issues - I produced a newspaper on these topics for 20 years and hosted a television show, as part of the work of the organization.

What is your understanding of the purpose of the Commission?

To explore, get input from the community, understand and advise on issues regarding senior issues in San Jose

Please list three issues facing the City that you feel the Commission should address.

1. How diverse seniors have different needs (each ethnicity, race, sexual orientation and gender identity has unique needs & concerns) 2, How poverty and the high cost of living is impacting seniors 3. How isolation is a major issue for seniors, and find ways to support seniors of diverse groups out of isolation.

Question applies to Senior Citizens Commission

What is a major issue facing San José's older adults and what do you see as the Commission's role in this issue?

It is my number 3 of the previous question: How isolation is a major issue for seniors, and find ways to support seniors of diverse groups out of isolation.

Question applies to Senior Citizens Commission

Please describe a leadership role you have assumed within the last five years.

I have been the Board President of the Billy DeFrank LGBTQ+ Community Center. Because we are volunteer-run, I wear many hats.

Question applies to Senior Citizens Commission

How would you handle differences in opinions or positions on issues being heard at a Senior Commission meeting?

I would think about them, try and see them from different perspectives - and see if another way could accommodate the various opinions.

Question applies to Senior Citizens Commission

What makes you knowledgeable about senior issues in the community?

Research (the new AARP research results about LGBT seniors), my own and our seniors' experiences and the senior forums I have attended the last number of years with the County Senior's Agenda and Summits and the City.

I would like to say . . .

I would LOVE to be part of the Commission to learn and express what I do know with a group of people who care about senior issues.

Please state why you want to become a member of this Board or Commission including specific objectives which you would work toward as a member. If you are applying for the Board of Fair Campaign and Political Practices, please indicate any familiarity or experience you may have with campaign laws.

I'm invested in San Jose, born and raised. I'd like to be more involved in adapting new policies, create dialogue for change. Start the conversations about how to evolve an Arts Eco System for Independent Artists, Small "For Profit Businesses" and not just Non Profit Organizations. How do we support the Curation of Public Arts for Independent "Movers and Shakers".

Please state any other information which you feel would be useful in reviewing your application

I've been referred by member Tamiko Rast, who thinks this would be good for our City. It has also been presented to me a couple years ago by former member Chris Morrish, who thought I would be the right person for a seat at the table.

As a Independent Small Buisness Owner, Artist, and Curator we can use the support from channels like the OCA grant funding etc. This is why I've hesitated applying before so that I won't miss out on any opportunities that could essentially help us sustain. However, since we are not a non-profit organization, opportunities are very limited and nothing has ever been available from the OCA to help us produce bigger projects other than the Creative Initiative Incentive Funds. Since last year I teamed up with other local independent creatives to proceed our dreams and not have to rely on grant due process.

Please describe your experience in serving on a Commission or Board.

Serving in a board and commissions has been a great learning experience. Learning about the broader picture of arts and culture programming. Other advocates and invested people for our arts eco system can be uplifting, understanding the challenges many programs encounter can have a motivating effect, learning not to give up with my own endeavors. As an independent small business I've learned that my experiences can also do the same for others.

Considering your experience and activities in business, labor, professional, social, or other organizations, indicate the experience, training, knowledge and/or skills which qualify you for appointment to the selected commission(s).

I've invested my life savings in creating a unique business and curated programming that has inspired a city to focus on the artists we elevate through our platform. Content Magazine is constantly highlighting the Artists our gallery features. Over the years we have collaborated with hundreds of artists, producers, musicians, performers, etc. Several years of groundbreaking exhibits inside the walls of E7S, we launched a series of Public Art projects, all which were independently funded. The need for freedom of expression through paint and brush, spray can, in the public air was unheard of. Artists producing the work they execute in their studios was not one that could connect with the funding organizations providing the budgets that can help sustain. Understanding the productions of a do it yourself movement, makes it easy to apply a budget to any projects moving forward. Grant writing through the CIIF and Knight Foundation had a impact understanding budgets. The multicultural arts leadership institute also guided me to collaborations and hundreds of invested artists organizations in the pursuit of a Arts Eco System to leverage their careers.

What is your understanding of the purpose of the Commission?

My understanding of the commission is that of a inclusive, considerate, advocacy leadership group doing what they can to elevate local artists. I also attended a meeting where a commissioner was trying his best to steer funding for local fabricators, but he was limited as to what he could actually approve. The commission also approved city owned properties to be painted on, which is a wonderful opportunity. Budget discussions, projects proposals, and the advisory for the City's Arts, temporary and permanent.

Please list three issues facing the City that you feel the Commission should address.

Funding expensive programming that has no permanent value. Connecting with the cultural history of indigenous, and ethnic public arts. Funding bigger ideas with supporting budgets allowing for greater opportunities for profit businesses cultivating and generating economic development, with Arts and Culture programming for the greater San Jose.

Question applies to Arts Commission

Describe recent San José arts activities you have participated in during the last twelve months (up to five activities) and what drew you to attend?

Sonido Clash Music Festival drawn to Cumbia Music, and performers from around the World. Luna Park Chalk Art Festival drawn to Backesto Park and the community involvement in one of the old neighborhoods. Sub Zero Festival drawn to the activation of South First Street in conjunction with South First Friday's. Japantown Artwalks, a activation strategically placed not to compete with other programming happening in the city. San Jose Jazz Festival a annual event with new and old acts on several stages.

Question applies to Arts Commission

Describe the ways in which you believe the arts bring value to the general community.

From experience Arts and Culture can transform neighborhoods, engaging and bringing communities together. Arts gives a sense a value, care, and importance for the future and past generations.

Question applies to Arts Commission

Should the City of San José have an active role in arts and cultural development? If so, in what ways and why?

The City of San Jose should elevate, and advocate for artists, and develop a sustainable arts eco system. The City of San Jose, Curating and programming depletes the opportunities and funding for producers, curators, and artists investing their livelihoods. Patching in cultural programming is not a sustainable practice.

Question applies to Arts Commission

How can you contribute to advising City Council on policy and programs related to cultural development in San José?

I can be honest, and will do my best to be inclusive, open minded, and considerate. My training with MALI was focused on Policy and how to engage with Senators, Politicians to introduce the dialogue in order to create change.

I would like to say . . .

Thank you for the opportunity, and hope to work with the commision that has worked extremely hard to elevate our Arts & Culture.

Have you ever attended a meeting of the Commission(s) to which you are applying?

☐ Yes ☒ No

Would you be available to attend meetings at the scheduled time?

☒ Yes ☐ No

Please describe your experience in serving on a Commission or Board.

I am an active participant and get involved in group discussions and activities, join a committee, and also being creative in coming up with new project which I am willing to lead if needed.

Considering your experience and activities in business, labor, professional, social, or other organizations, indicate the experience, training, knowledge and/or skills which qualify you for appointment to the selected commission(s).

Between 2000 and 2015 I was the executive director of Voices United, a nonprofit that provided information and educational and preventative services on Substance Use Prevention issues - I produced a newspaper on these topics for 20 years and hosted a television show, as part of the work of the organization.

What is your understanding of the purpose of the Commission?

To explore, get input from the community, understand and advise on issues regarding senior issues in San Jose

Please list three issues facing the City that you feel the Commission should address.

1. How diverse seniors have different needs (each ethnicity, race, sexual orientation and gender identity has unique needs & concerns) 2, How poverty and the high cost of living is impacting seniors 3. How isolation is a major issue for seniors, and find ways to support seniors of diverse groups out of isolation.

Question applies to Senior Citizens Commission

What is a major issue facing San José's older adults and what do you see as the Commission's role in this issue?

It is my number 3 of the previous question: How isolation is a major issue for seniors, and find ways to support seniors of diverse groups out of isolation.

Question applies to Senior Citizens Commission

Please describe a leadership role you have assumed within the last five years.

I have been the Board President of the Billy DeFrank LGBTQ+ Community Center. Because we are volunteer-run, I wear many hats.

Question applies to Senior Citizens Commission

How would you handle differences in opinions or positions on issues being heard at a Senior Commission meeting?

I would think about them, try and see them from different perspectives - and see if another way could accommodate the various opinions.

Question applies to Senior Citizens Commission

What makes you knowledgeable about senior issues in the community?

Research (the new AARP research results about LGBT seniors), my own and our seniors' experiences and the senior forums I have attended the last number of years with the County Senior's Agenda and Summits and the City.

I would like to say . . .

I would LOVE to be part of the Commission to learn and express what I do know with a group of people who care about senior issues.

I have the lived experience and active advocacy for matters pertinent to human rights and services. I can actively contribute to making recommendations to the City Council relative to these matters. I work with the community and recognize the issues that need to be addressed. I have the proper temperament and training. I worked with folks that have been victims of abuse, victims of human trafficking, residents in Long Term Care facilities (as a State Ombudsman), veterans trying to navigate complex bureaucracy. This fits well with my current appointment as member of the county Advisory Council for Sourcewise (IHSS) and the Board of Health Authority where I chair the Consumer Committee.

Please state why you want to become a member of this Board or Commission including specific objectives which you would work toward as a member. If you are applying for the Board of Fair Campaign and Political Practices, please indicate any familiarity or experience you may have with campaign laws.

I have had extensive experience in the process of quasi-judicial hearings through participation on numerous securities industry disciplinary hearing panels (District Business Conduct Committee) and significant involvement with the security industry's national appellate apparatus (National Adjudicatory Council). As a result of this industry experience, I believe I am well-qualified to participate in the City's appeals hearing process and would expect to make an immediate contribution. I believe the City's Appeals Hearing Board would benefit from having a new Board member who is well-steeped in a collaborative hearing process and who could "hit-the-deck-running."

Please state any other information which you feel would be useful in reviewing your application

I have both the desire and time to devote to serving on the Appeals Hearing Board and would welcome the opportunity to be able to give something back to the City that has been my home for almost forty years. I believe giving back in this particular manner makes the best use of my background and skills.

See comments in "Interests & Experience" section above

What is your understanding of the purpose of the Commission?

The Appeals Hearing Board hears code enforcement cases involving matters such as blighted conditions, illegal building activity, unsafe and unsanitary living conditions, abandoned, dismantled and inoperative vehicles on private property, neglected vacant houses, weed abatement liens, garbage liens and other matters. The Board also hears appeals of police permit denials or revocations, stop sign appeals, sign removal fees, utility billing and graffiti abatement fees.

Please list three issues facing the City that you feel the Commission should address.

The primary issue facing the Appeals Hearing Board is ensuring the continued administration of a fair and unbiased code enforcement program designed to correct violations of municipal codes and land use requirements. In that regard, the Appeals Hearing Board serves as an important arbiter between the City and its citizenry -- an essential function that should support and engender ongoing trust and faith in our system.
