I am applying for the planning commission because San José will be transformed over the next decade. With the arrival of BART and the coming development around Google, every corner of this city will be impacted by the increased demand for housing, the stretching of public services, and the influx of new residents from around the world. As this transformation takes place, we as a city must ensure that we are not displacing the families who have lived in San José for decades, and that we do not push out the teachers, nurses, mechanics, and other workers who make San José run. We have struggled to keep up with the needs of our residents. The unhoused population has increased over 40% over the past two years as rents and other costs of living continue to increase. Right now, a single person making $66,000 per year, and a family of four making $94,000 per year, are considered low-income. How we develop and grow will have a major impact on our people, and we need to manage that process to ensure that we create a San Jose for all.

Please describe your experience in serving on a Commission or Board.

I have served on various boards since 2003, serving in capacities from members of the board of directors to committee chairmanships. The boards that I served on as a student include Student Union, Incorporated and Associated Students, Incorporated while at SJSU, and on the board of community organizations such as United Vietnamese Student Associations and the Union of North American Vietnamese Student Associations as an alumnus. Currently, I serve on two boards, Vietnamese American Roundtable, Inc. and Youth Changing Society, Inc., an organization that focuses on engaging with those who seek to create a civil society in Vietnam. I am also a current member of the Housing and Community Development Commission. I also served as a member of the Housing Commission from 2017 to 2019.

Considering your experience and activities in business, labor, professional, social, or other organizations, indicate the experience, training, knowledge and/or skills which qualify you for appointment to the selected commission(s).

I was a member of the Housing and Community Development Commission from 2017 to 2019. In that capacity, I developed intimate understanding of the rules and regulations that applies to new developments in San Jose, such as the Ellis Act and the Inclusionary Housing Ordinance. On the Housing Commission, I led the effort to recommend to the City Council that we enact the Commercial Linkage Fee and to study residential vacancies in San Jose. Outside of the Housing Commission, I have worked with organizations representing mobile home residents to advocate for a new general plan designation to apply to mobile home parks.

What is your understanding of the purpose of the Commission?

The Planning Commission plays an advisory role to the City Council on matters related to the General Plan, to our growth, and to our development. While it does have final authority on some matters, the Planning Commission - like any other commission - is intended to provide community feedback to the Council as it is comprised of non-elected officials.

Please list three issues facing the City that you feel the Commission should address.

The Commission's top priority should be generating ideas to increase the housing supply for the LI, VLI, and ELI population. The City is on track to meet its market rate housing goals, but falling far behind on its goals to meet affordable housing goals. Second, the City should prioritize the assessment of how additional housing will affect the ability of the City to continue its current level of services, such as garbage and law enforcement. Third, the City should work with its communities, developers, and other stakeholders to develop a plan to boost the housing supply while matching any growth in the need for services or resources for the additional residents who move in to San Jose.

Please state why you want to become a member of this Board or Commission including specific objectives which you would work toward as a member. If you are applying for the Board of Fair Campaign and Political Practices, please indicate any familiarity or experience you may have with campaign laws.

Objectives that would drive my service are knowing the General Plan intimately so appropriate projects can progress, preserving open space and addressing the housing crisis. My first goal is to compare proposals against the General Plan and move them forward if they fit the city's objectives & goals. Secondly, growing up in San Jose in the 70's and 80's I witnessed the transformations of farmland, orchards, and vineyards into housing developments and shopping centers, so I value the preservation of open space, and value building smartly in urban spaces, and near transit so residents can still witness nature, reminiscent of the "Valley of the Hearts Delight". In addition to knowing the plan and preserving the Coyote Valley, hills and park space, my third objective is to support housing for all income levels. When my husband and I decided to raise our family here, my parents sold us their house at a discount. We could not have lived here on two teachers incomes (one is part time) if it weren't for subsidized housing from my parents. I believe people need to be motivated and work diligently to live in this valley, but that housing is a right and housing stock needs to be plentiful enough to welcome current and future workers, whether they be in the tech or service industries.

Question applies to multiple boards

Do you meet the requirements for appointment to this commission?

☒ Yes ☐ No

I would like to say . . .

For the past twenty-one years I have been focused on raising my four children and making a living by building my small business, but I have also allocated time to serve my local community. I will have a lot to learn about the General Plan as a freshman on the Planning Commission, just like when I was a first year teacher and needed to learn the curriculum, but my enthusiasm for San Jose, willingness to serve and research and hard-earned experience will enable me to contribute to the success of the commission and adherence to the General Plan.

“Team Lead” for San Jose Youth Climate Action (May 2019 - current): I lead Silicon Valley Youth Climate Action's San Jose team where we worked on a 2019 Sept climate strike at San Jose city hall attended by thousands of youths, convinced the San Jose City Council to adopt an all-electric standards for all construction and a natural gas ban in new low-rise residential and commercial buildings, and are organizing for better VTA bus services in Santa Clara County via a ballot measure reallocation. I am the point person for coalition-building, keeping the team informed with monthly emails, and conducting PR for our team; I spoke at the press conference for the county Climate Restoration campaign. “Chair of Student Rights and Services” for De Anza College (Apr 2019 - Oct 2019): I was elected by the student body to serve De Anza College's nearly 18,000 students by advocating for student needs in administrative decisions. I also led efforts to raise student awareness of on-campus and local resources, develop new mentorship programming for students, and worked with the schools' offices to promote student retention and success. “Environmental Justice Project Lead” for Vasconcellos Institute for Democracy in Action (Jun 2019 - current): I'm a student intern at De Anza College's VIDA office where I work on environmental justice projects on-campus. With two other interns, I've recruited and trained 20 volunteers to organize for banning the sale of plastic bottles on campus and transition from paper towels to air dryers in all school bathrooms. We're also working on an upcoming sustainability fair on campus to connect students to sustainability career opportunities and workshops on how to live more eco-friendly. “Volunteer” for SOMOS Mayfair (Jun 2016 - May 2017): I conducted bilingual surveys to understand our community's needs, organized a youth soccer league to keep young students away from gang activities, and streamlined the organization's Salesforce database on registered families to better support our programming. Working with other interns, I developed a summer empowerment program, recruited over 500 kindergarten students, and mentored them to enjoy their education. I also led a project to access CA's Dept of Justice's background clearance program.

I'm recognized for my climate work and commitment to the public good and environment. I am one of very few community college recipients for this merit-based scholarship. This award is similar in nature to other nationally prestigious awards like the Truman Scholarship for Public Service and the Fulbright Scholarship for international study/work. Santa Clara County Board of Supervisors Commendation (Oct 2019): The county Board of Supervisors submitted and approved an item in October 2019 to commend the organizers of the September 2019 Climate Strike in San Jose for their community work and civic engagement. I received this award with other youth organizers as a symbol of the success and impact of our five-months-long project. PG&E Hispanic Employee Resource Group Award (Jun 2019): I was selected by the Hispanic employee group of PG&E (Pacific Gas and Electric Company), Northern California's power utilities company, for my commitment to the advancement of Hispanic-American success and solidarity with other historically marginalized groups. De Anza Vice Chancellors Award (Jun 2019): This award was created in honor of retired Vice Chancellors Mike Brandy and Jane Enright. It recognizes students who have demonstrated a commitment to public service. I want to serve the city I grew up in with the objective of transforming the city into a sustainable regional powerhouse with abundant opportunities for all. As San Jose faces a population boom amidst regional environmental challenges and local issues, I want to contribute the voices of our young who will be affected by much of the city's decisions today to help our city and communities innovate solutions to ongoing challenges and shape the vision we hope to achieve for our common home. Much of those wide-impacting decisions start with recommendations from the Planning Commission, where I'll contribute the perspectives of the younger generations, immigrants, our less-affluent communities, and knowledge of sustainable practices and technology. By the end of meetings, I hope to have helped make recommendations with the most holistic considerations of the needs of our city and our roughly 1 million residents. Since the PG&E planned power outages in 2019, I realized that the need to transition to clean energy to simultaneously cut out emissions encouraging dangerous wildfires and to avoid future outages, which are logistical disasters. Many residents don't realize how cheap clean energy can be and how accessible it is in our city. My goal on the Clean Energy Community Advisory Commission would be to accelerate San Jose's transition towards being a sustainable and smart city through grassroots outreach and recommendations to the council that recognizes the needs/challenges of the city's different communities to find the quickest path to widespread clean energy adoption. Even though I'm 20 years old, I want the best for my city, and being part of these commissions will help me give back to the home I love without having to be in elected office.

Please describe your experience in serving on a Commission or Board.

As Chair of Student Rights and Services, I've been able to take part in several administrative committees and commissions for a range of topics, including Academic Senate and Student Health.

Considering your experience and activities in business, labor, professional, social, or other organizations, indicate the experience, training, knowledge and/or skills which qualify you for appointment to the selected commission(s).

In all of the experiences I described above through my positions and community involvement, I have had to do a lot of policy research (school district, city, county, state, federal), strategizing, collaborating, and community organizing to achieve the success that I saw in those roles. I would repeat those techniques on the Planning Commission to make recommendations to the city council. Previous training include working at SOMOS Mayfair, the Vasconcellos Institute for Democracy in Action, De Anza College's Division of Equity and Engagement, Silicon Valley Youth Climate Action, and De Anza College Student Government (which is in charge of an annual $1 million budget). From my schooling and research experience, I hope to contribute knowledge of economic models, urban planning, current green technologies and research, and research skills. My skills include data analysis, speaking multiple languages to reach our diverse communities, report writing, outreach and marketing, discussion facilitation, and conflict resolution. More personally, I come from an immigrant and low-income household with small business-owning parents. I am a first-generation college student who has experienced and witnessed the changes our city has made my entire life growing up in this city. I've seen my parent's businesses go through years of changes. I've seen my community change both for the better and worse; I remember and know what has work and what hasn't, and I want to be on the Planning Commission to ensure our city makes the most-informed decisions possible and to avoid repeating past harms.

What is your understanding of the purpose of the Commission?

My understanding of the purpose of the Planning Commission is to act as a channel for the City Council and staff to understand the needs of the city and communities affected when making urban planning and development decisions. The Planning Commission is to represent the city's diverse population and make recommendations after extensive study of proposals made by staff and developers to ensure the best possible decisions for our city, its businesses, its people, and its future.

Please list three issues facing the City that you feel the Commission should address.

(1) Climate change, (2) affordability, (3) council-community/civilian relationship and outreach

Question applies to Clean Energy Community Advisory Commission

Based on the stakeholder categories you selected, please briefly describe your qualifications and applicable experience. Please attach resume at the end of the application.

I am a low-income student from a low-income, small business-owning, and working class family. My work in Silicon Valley Youth Climate Action (SVYCA) has included clean energy and environmental advocacy. SVYCA is a youth-led nonprofit focused on advocating for transformational climate action locally in order to ensure prosperity for future generations and promote young voices for a more vibrant and open democracy.

Question applies to Clean Energy Community Advisory Commission

Given the small number of committee members, having a quorum is essential. Please describe your ability to make a commitment to attending and actively contributing to the committee (The committee will meet at least quarterly and in the evenings, but may meet more frequently in the early stages)

I have looked at the meeting commitments and intend to make time for them. My choice of commission has been made with the consideration of the time and meeting commitments required; I am ready to make those commitments. I understand that quorum is a legal requirement for the commission to function fully per the Brown Act.

I would like to say . . .

Let's make San Jose better!

I was raised in San José and have lived here for a total of 15 years. San José is currently going through the most dramatic period of growth it's had in my lifetime, and I'm interested in serving on the Planning Commission because it's the most direct way to be a part of guiding that growth towards a prosperous future for all of the city's residents. It's important that the Planning Commission have voices from all over the city and from diverse backgrounds. If I'm appointed I'll bring perspective from the west side and from being a young person and a member of the LGBTQ+ community.. My biggest objective is to listen to all stakeholders and make decisions not based on ideology, but on balanced consideration of everyone's wants and needs.

Please describe your experience in serving on a Commission or Board.

I have served on the Housing and Community Development Commission (HCDC) since August 2018. In my time on HCDC I've learned a lot about how internal city processes work, and particularly brought me up to speed on developer obligations like affordable housing, parks, and parking minimums. HCDC has also given me experience hearing different, often conflicting, perspectives from different stakeholders, and having to weigh those wants and needs when making a decision.

Considering your experience and activities in business, labor, professional, social, or other organizations, indicate the experience, training, knowledge and/or skills which qualify you for appointment to the selected commission(s).

I've been involved with the District 1 Leadership Group (D1LG) for several years and was elected to serve on its board in January 2020. The D1LG has connected me to many of the people and organizations involved in the planning process, like neighborhood associations and other resident groups, developers, advocacy groups like CatalyzeSV, and council staff. I also regularly attend public comment meetings for projects in my area. I've developed a good understanding of who cares about planning and why, and how the process tends to play out when projects are controversial. If I serve on the Planning Commission, I'll use those connections to help keep the community informed and involved in the planning process.

What is your understanding of the purpose of the Commission?

My understanding is that the purpose of the Planning Commission is to advise City Council on planning policy (such General Plan amendments and land use ordinances) and individual planning decisions for proposed projects. I also understand that the Planning Commission has limited authority to act independently of City Council to issue some types of permits.

Please list three issues facing the City that you feel the Commission should address.

The City of San José has recognized for years that new housing construction is essential to address California's housing crisis. Unfortunately, many other cities in California have approved very few housing projects since the Great Recession, including some of our smaller neighbors, and that's spurred the state to take action to restrict local control. I'm deeply concerned that such laws will unfairly limit San José's authority to decide how, what, and where we build, even though we've exercised that authority responsibly in the past and will continue to do so in the future. If San José has to modify its ordinances or General Plan to comply with new housing legislation, I hope that the Planning Commission can reconcile compliance with the law and maintaining local control. --- Addressing the housing crisis with density and development and protecting vulnerable communities are sometimes competing goals. There's never a one-size-fits-all solution, so this is a challenge that the Planning Commission and the City Council always need to keep in mind. The recent General Plan amendment to rezone and protect mobile home parks was a great example of the Commission and Council "promot[ing] San José's continued growth into a leading world city, while maintaining social equity in its operations," the first major strategy of the city's General Plan. --- Parks and open space are essential for health, wellbeing, and quality of life in our neighborhoods, and for achieving Major Strategy #13 of the General Plan, "Design for a Healthful Community." That's become even more salient during the current pandemic, as our parks provide an outlet for exercise and recreation during the ongoing shelter-in-place order. But some parts of San José have less access to parks than others. For example, District 1, where I live, is largely residential, but has fewer parks than any other council district. It's important for the Planning Commission to understand the value of parks and open space in our community and use its charter as an opportunity to promote the creation of new parks and open space.

I have worked with many organizations, agencies and city officials. I help residents understand the process and which agency they need to contact. I am comfortable speaking with large groups and work well with others developing a plan with a purpose and agenda. I have managed many timelines and executions successfully.

Please describe your experience in serving on a Commission or Board.

In the past 1 1/2 years I have served as commissioner for District 4. (usually 2 commissioners per district) Until recently at the last meeting we were told that we will now work under Parks & Recreation. A 2nd commissioner was appointed to District 4. We were all very surprised. I looked forward to working the neighborhood associations and they looked forward to the updates and budget recommendations. Some of the complaints we worked on were abandoned vehicles, safety, crime. traffic, illegal dumping, homelessness and illegal fireworks. We all served on Ad Hoc committees and focus groups.

Considering your experience and activities in business, labor, professional, social, or other organizations, indicate the experience, training, knowledge and/or skills which qualify you for appointment to the selected commission(s).

My experience includes program, project management, administrative as well as public policy, and speaking engagements. I am knowledgeable and have a good understanding of community issues as well as knowledge of the city and leaders.

What is your understanding of the purpose of the Commission?

I believe the priority is to decisions and have knowledge of the city and projects. The commissioners constitutes decisions as a group and makes recommendations as a body, and lother general functions

Please list three issues facing the City that you feel the Commission should address.

1. Traffic: Berryessa Bart San Jose North, anticipated opening end of Dec 2019. Berryessa Urban Village is currently under construction and expanding, has many residents concerned about the growing traffic and cannot visualize the big picture and the revenues needed to grow our area which has been nicknamed a bedroom community. 2. Homelessness. This is an issue for every district, however One solution in District 4 is the Tiny Home Project, for the homeless community, the 8X10 shelters help people get back on their feet. Slated to open Nov 2020. A new program that other cities have established that pays the homeless to pick up trash. 3. Crime. In our District property crime is up. Neighborhood Associations have police and sheriff speak crime statistics at meetings, and take suggestions from residents they may not be aware of.

I believe my education and professional experience suit me well to serve on the Planning Board and the Appeals Board. These two boards play huge roles and impact the quality of life in San Jose and ensuring it grows strategically and responsibly, allowing it to remain the best city in the United States to live and work. Whether it is the Planning Board that is instrumental in making educated and responsible decisions for economic growth while minimizing and considering all negative and environmental impact, or the Appeals Boards involving enforcement and adherence to regulatory and civil code for safety, health and quality of life, they are of critical importance.

Please state any other information which you feel would be useful in reviewing your application

To answer this question from an absolute and global perspective, the only possible answer is yes. However, I believe the intent of the question is if I have a potential conflict of interest, such as a financial interest where I would derive direct benefit, in which case the answer is definitely No. To explain my answer, I am a real estate Broker, in the field of Real Estate Lending, a resident of San Jose, and own real estate investment property. My economic livelihood and financial stability rely on prudent decisions at all levels of government and responsible action from all residents of our city. Therefore, the Planning Commission with responsibility involving the General Plan, land use, development, redevelopment, etc. does make decisions impacting all residents of San Jose, from the quality of life to financial and economic impact. That said, I do not see any conflict of interest nor any ability to impact my personal interests in any way shape or form.

Please describe your experience in serving on a Commission or Board.

I have not served on any City, County or State Commission or Board. I do have experience participating in Chapters and Boards in community and professional organizations such as currently sitting as Board Member of the Silicon Valley Chapter of CA Association of Mortgage Professionals. Our mission is to serve as a resource and advocate for lending professionals, hosting education seminars and networking events.

Considering your experience and activities in business, labor, professional, social, or other organizations, indicate the experience, training, knowledge and/or skills which qualify you for appointment to the selected commission(s).

My professional experience in real estate, mortgage lending and community involvement should prove beneficial towards qualifying and contributing as a member of the Planning Commission Board or Appeals Board. Both roles are instrumental in proper planning and adhering to code, ordinance and general plan, of which I have a working knowledge. As a real estate and lending professional, active CA DRE 01299745 since 2003 and NMLS 695345 since 2010, I have had the need to stay abreast of the local market and regulatory changes impacting the industry. This includes ongoing continuing education, both required for licensing and voluntary for continual growth. In addition, my roles have provided opportunity to keep the pulse of the community, such as outreach to underserved markets in credit, financial education as a volunteer Junior Achievement instructor, and host for homebuyer education seminars. .

What is your understanding of the purpose of the Commission?

The Planning Commission makes decisions impacting the General Plan, adherence to, changes, considers environmental impact and balances with economic growth and development. The Appeals Board hears appeals from the community involving issues that involve code enforcement, violations of health and safety, nuisance and blight, unpermitted structures or businesses, things of that nature.

Please list three issues facing the City that you feel the Commission should address.

Blight and safety issues in many private neighborhoods and public areas such as freeway offramps and bridges. Unpermitted structures and overcrowding in residential property causing unsanitary conditions and blight. Unpermitted operation of businesses in residential areas impacting traffic and environmental waste

State and local law require that you abstain from participation in decisions that may affect your financial interests, including sources of income, interest in real property, personal finances or investments. In addition, if appointed, you may be required to fill out a disclosure statement which identifies certain of your financial interest beginning with the immediate twelve-month period prior to your appointment. Please review the scope of your board/commission in Municipal Code Chapter 2.08. Based on your best judgment, does this Board or Commission make decisions that may affect sources of income, interests in real property, personal finances or investments of you or your spouse?

☒ Yes ☐ No

If yes, please explain. Please identify any organizations, associations, corporations, or entities by which you are employed or associated that might be affected by decisions of this Board or Commission, and the positions you hold in these entities.

Although Planning Commission matters are unlikely to directly affect my personal financial interests, I am employed as an attorney at the San Jose law firm of Hopkins & Carley and recognize that clients of the firm occasionally submit matters before the Planning Commission. As a Commissioner, I would recuse myself from those matters. Based upon my experience as a practicing attorney over the past 7.5 years, I would expect this situation to arise rarely.

Attachment 1 to Planning Commission Application

(Andrew J. Ditlevsen)

- Please state why you want to become a member of this Board or Commission including specific objectives which you would work toward as a member.
- Please state any other information which you feel would be useful in reviewing your application

I want to serve on the planning commission to contribute toward building a better San Jose for the future- it's a goal my family has worked toward for generations in this valley and one I wish to continue using my own skillset.

To understand my sense of obligation, I wish to share a little family history. In 1905, my great-grandmother emigrated from northern Italy to San Jose through Ellis Island. Soon after, her mother died, and she was removed from school, tasked with caring for her three siblings, before she learned to read or write. In 1926, she gave birth to my grandfather at her bungalow on Delmas Avenue (a property later taken by eminent domain). She instilled in him a relentless work ethic and the importance of education: she worked nearly her entire life pressing clothes at San Jose's Linen Exchange. My grandfather spent his childhood working in San Jose's canneries and orchards while attending San Jose public schools. He was the first member of his family to attend college: San Jose State University. After obtaining his degree, and completing military service, he returned to his hometown: as an educator. For nearly twenty years, my grandfather was a teacher and administrator in SJUSD; his sister also spent her entire career working in SJUSD. He told me there was no greater joy that he experienced during his life than those years as a "boots on the ground" educator.

My grandfather, who passed away last year at the age of 93, instilled in me the same work ethic he learned from my great grandmother. During our many conversations, he emphasized the equal importance of education and contribution to one's community. I want to do my part, and ensure I continue the legacy of contributions my family has made to the City.

To this end, my primary objectives as a Planning Commissioner are three-fold: (1) approve projects that add sustained value to the City of San Jose and its various communities; (2) have informed exchanges with the public and other commissioners about the compatibility of the particular project with the General Plan aimed at balancing the interests of San Jose's diverse stakeholders and community members; and (3) execute the vision of the San Jose 2040 General Plan, including the judicious exercise of discretion provided to Planning Commissioners in evaluating a project's suitability.

- Please describe your experience in serving on a Commission or Board.

I served as a Commissioner on the Appeals Hearing Board for one term (2014-2017). When I started, I was a junior lawyer, seeking a way to give back to the community. Before my first hearing, I had only casually observed a handful of City Council meetings in connection with law school projects. As a commissioner, I learned much about "Robert's Rules of Order" and the general mechanics of City meetings. I enjoyed engaging with my fellow commissioners and contributing my expertise to find balanced resolutions.

My time on the board was short- I didn't seek a second term because my law practice was growing each year. I had also met my wife, we married, bought our home in San Jose, and were preparing to start a family. However, I always intended, if an opportunity presented itself, to return to service on a City commission. My professional interests draw me to the Planning Commission, and this is where I believe the intersection of my experience and personal interest yield the greatest probability for meaningful contribution.

- Considering your experience and activities in business, labor, professional, social, or other organizations, indicate the experience, training, knowledge and/or skills which qualify you for appointment to the selected commission(s).

When I enrolled in law school, it was because of a growing interest in real estate. Since I passed the bar, nearly every aspect of my practice concerns real estate. I have represented the interests of various stakeholders: residential tenants and landlords, commercial tenants and landlords, commercial property owners, developers and construction companies, and therefore have experience working with stakeholders of varying perspectives. Moreover, as a quasi-judicial body, my business litigation and trial experience should add value. I also appreciate the significance of correctly applying the General Plan and other policies of the City, and the consequences of misapplication.

With my professional experience, and personal interest in the subject matter, I can help make decisions for a better San Jose.

- What is your understanding of the purpose of the Commission?

The purpose of the Planning Commission is to understand and execute the vision of the City's 2040 General Plan in a manner that balances the desire for future growth and the needs of the City and its residents. In executing the vision of that document, Planning Commissioners must judiciously exercise their discretion over project approval, maximizing community benefit, while consciously balancing various community interests and responding to potentially unanticipated demand.

- Please list three issues facing the City that you feel the Commission should address.
1. Fostering respectful communication between the Commission, city stakeholders and citizens with the aim of fairly balancing sometimes competing community interests;
 2. Focusing intently on developing "hotspots" in a way that balances the interests of the Community; and
 3. Respond openly to changing or unanticipated market demands and needs within the spirit of the 2040 General Plan and other City policies.

I've resided in San Jose for nearly 40 years and I am intimately aware of its strengths and weaknesses. As a graduate student studying Urban Planning, I examined the historical decisions that continue to influence San Jose today. I have studied the housing-to-jobs imbalance and delved deeply into the affordable housing crisis. Additionally, as a Real Estate Attorney (with no clients in San Jose or prospects of working with San Jose real estate clients) I am well-versed in the inner workings of real estate.

Please describe your experience in serving on a Commission or Board.

City of San Jose, Planning Commission, 10/2019-present City of San Jose Project Diversity Commissioner, 5/2007 – 2008 From 2007 to 2008, I served on the City's Project Diversity Commission which aimed to improve the representation of commissioners from the various council districts, as well as improve gender and racial diversity on the boards and commissions of the City of San Jose.

Considering your experience and activities in business, labor, professional, social, or other organizations, indicate the experience, training, knowledge and/or skills which qualify you for appointment to the selected commission(s).

City of San Jose Project Diversity Commissioner, 5/2007 – 2008 From 2007 to 2008, I served on the City's Project Diversity Commission which aimed to improve the representation of commissioners from the various council districts, as well as improve gender and racial diversity on the boards and commissions of the City of San Jose. East Side Union High School District Citizen's Bond Oversight Committee, 2013 – 2017 Board Chair, 2016 & 2017 In 2013, I was appointed by the East Side Union High School District Board of Trustees to serve on the Citizen's Bond Oversight Committee (CBOC). The CBOC is responsible for the oversight of various voter approved bond measures which exceed $100 million dollars and are generally used to improve the physical plant of the schools within the district. The Committee executed its duties by reviewing the outside audits of bond measures expenditures, reviewing the progress of construction activities at various schools within the district and meeting quarterly with district and consult staff who operated the bond measure program. I was elected to serve as Board Chair for two consecutive years and was responsible for setting the agenda and running the CBOC meetings. This experience gave me a unique perspective on the the various neighborhoods, schools, tax and bond issues for an area that covers Berryessa to Santa Teresa, east of the 101 freeway. My current role as the Deputy Director of Probation Administration is an executive level position that oversees the Justice Planning Services Division of the County of Santa Clara Probation Department, which include the following units/programs: Research & Development, Contracts and Grants, Neighborhood Safety, Evidence Based Practices, and Juvenile Violence Reduction. The Justice Planning Services Division achieves system transformation from within using a race equity framework to develop timely reports that are used to drive decision making, implement and monitor evidence-based practices, and ensure quality, community-based services and supports to address our client's needs, therefore creating positive change in our clients, families and neighborhoods. I currently manage six direct reports, and 20+ FTEs across the JPS teams. I act as a liaison between the Board of Supervisors and the department. I manage several cross-system collaborations and county/city wide initiatives on behalf of the department. I am the departmental public information officer, responding to California Public Records Act requests, monitoring news media for stories related to the department and working collaboratively with the County Office of Public Affairs to proactively highlight the work of the department. In my role, I oversee the development and implementation of programs and services that are geared toward reducing racial/ethnic disparities in the criminal justice system. I proactively provide professional development and leadership opportunities for direct reports and teams and help to develop and implement trainings on county processes for the department. I regularly report to the Board of Supervisors on the activities of the Probation Department and provide data reports focused on the following results-based measures: How many clients did we serve? How well did we serve them? Is anyone better off? As the Deputy Directory, I helped to develop a five-year strategic plan for the Juvenile Services Division. The following goals will be achieved through the strategic plan: Enhanced Understanding of the Goals and Philosophy of the Department; Increased Trust & Engagement in the Juvenile Justice System; and Enhanced Youth Experience in the Juvenile Justice System.

What is your understanding of the purpose of the Commission?

The Planning Commission role is specific to making recommendations related to land use decisions within the confines of the City of San Jose. The Commission makes recommendations to the City Council related to updates and amendments to the General Plan, future redevelopment or development, and land use regulations related to zoning and subdivisions. The Commission is also responsible for making recommendations related to the Capital Improvement Plan and serves as an appellate body on certain Planning Director decisions.

Please list three issues facing the City that you feel the Commission should address.

The Commission should make recommendations that increase the availability to affordable housing within the city limits, including addressing issues of displacement related to the high cost of living, issues of homeless, and economic growth within the Bay Area. Recommendations should be balanced so that the city can maintain or increase green/park/open space in under-resourced neighborhoods, while preserving existing open space in the Coyote Valley, as is practical and maintains the economic viability of the city. Ensuring new growth exists with increased access to transportation hubs so that the city can thrive in an environmentally responsible way, that increases the quality of life of its residents.

Question applies to multiple boards

Do you meet the requirements for appointment to this commission?

☒ Yes ☐ No

I would like to say . . .

With over 17 years of public service experience, I have been able to observe and interact with residents from all facets of life in the City of San Jose and the broader area of Santa Clara County. This experience in both politics and public policy has given me a unique perspective on the needs and issues facing city residents. Through my various roles in the criminal justice system, I have witnessed the impact of historical land use decisions on our clients and their families. As a lifelong resident, I have dedicated my personal and professional life to improving the lives of our residents. I see an appointment to the Planning Commission as a way to continue to give back to the community that I has given me so much and allowed me to thrive. Additionally, I am a firm believer that representation matters and as a woman of Latino descent and both a home owner (District 5) and renter (District 3), I would bring a unique voice to the commission.

I first became interested in Urban Planning when assigned to plan a greenfield Chemical Plant city for DuPont in 1970. Urban planning has been an interest of mine ever since. The 2040 Urban Village plan became of interest when I was invited to join the Stevens Creek Advisory Group and Winchester Neighborhood Advisory committee. San Jose needs to become a 20th century city and urban villages are a necessary part of becoming one.

Please state why you want to become a member of this Board or Commission including specific objectives which you would work toward as a member. If you are applying for the Board of Fair Campaign and Political Practices, please indicate any familiarity or experience you may have with campaign laws.

In addition to being a San Jose booster, I am a land use and development junkie. For 14 years I was employed by the Silicon Valley Leadership Group and have, as a profession, had the great pleasure to work at the State, regional and local level to advance sound land use planning in cities in Silicon Valley. In 2015 when I was appointed to the Commission, I decided to leave the Leadership Group, to switch gears and focus on working to advance the greenhouse gas reduction goals of the State through cycling as the new Executive Director of the Silicon Valley Bicycle Coalition. When I originally applied to serve on the Commission it was because I love this city and wanted to keep a toe in the land use arena. Since that time, I have enjoyed the Commission more than I had anticipated. It's interesting and I feel with my experience, I can help elevate issues for the City to consider while championing the priorities I hold dear - the environment, social justice and affordable housing.

Please state any other information which you feel would be useful in reviewing your application

I have a long track record working on land use and development issues and would like to put that expertise to good use. I also have deep roots in San Jose having grown up in West San Jose in a rent controlled apartment and therefore benefiting from the high quality school districts of the Westside. At the age of 25, my mother and I pooled our resources and were able to purchase our first home in District 2, a haven for first-time homebuyers. Then I moved to District 10 with my partner until 2011 when we moved to the outskirts of Downtown a few blocks from the Diridon Station. San Jose is very much my home, the city I care most about and want to contribute to.

I own two properties and would imagine that decisions that were within a certain distance of those properties would need to be evaluated for a conflict of interest. I also own some shares of Avalon Bay.

Please describe your experience in serving on a Commission or Board.

I have served on several boards and commissions as listed above including the San Jose General Plan Task Force, the Association of Bay Area Governments Regional Planning Committee and the State Housing Element Working Group. I have served on numerous boards including the Silicon Valley Bicycle Coalition, the Sierra Club Loma Prieta Chapter, the League of Conservation Voters, the Housing Trust of Silicon Valley and the Community Technology Alliance.

Considering your experience and activities in business, labor, professional, social, or other organizations, indicate the experience, training, knowledge and/or skills which qualify you for appointment to the selected commission(s).

My role at the Leadership Group was a great training ground for land use and development issues. In my tenure there, I worked on the following programs and projects: - Initially brought on to lead a project to help cities update their Housing Elements. - Served on the San Jose General Plan Task Force - Staff the SVLG land use and housing committee, the committee of the Leadership Group that reviews land use and housing policy and makes recommendations to the Board. - Lead the County-wide effort to adopt baseline green building standards - Oversee the organization's development endorsement process where we regularly review development proposals in cities across Silicon Valley - Organize and lead tours of transit oriented development, forums on housing and land use and the on-the-ground application of the California Environmental Quality Act - Co-founded SV@Home

What is your understanding of the purpose of the Commission?

Without cutting and pasting what is written on the City's website, I would sum up the Commission's purpose as that of an advisor to the City Council on land use and development matters. Also, beyond reviewing projects and decisions for conformance with the City's policies, the Commission can use its position to flag issues for the City Council to address.

Please list three issues facing the City that you feel the Commission should address.

I believe the most important issues for the Commission to address are: 1) Race/Equity: After Trump was elected, I became fairly obsessed with trying to understand certain elements of society that were emboldened by the new administration. I spent about 2 years doing some deep learning and came to understand that my worldview, despite perceiving myself as a good progressive, was far from the truth. Since that time I have learned a lot about structural racism and believe that the number one issue we need to address at this time is our seemingly race neutral approach to policy and systems. I have unknowingly perpetuated solutions that I have thought were fair, but they were skewed. I have been in positions of power and not wielded that power justly. I know few in power who do. This is the top issue of today. 2) Sustainable Development: As an environmental studies major, I come to land use and development by way of the environment. As a result, I believe one of the best strategies for improving the health of the planet is to direct development to the appropriate places. Those places are where we have strong existing and planned transit connections and the ability to intensify, like North San Jose, Downtown, and the Diridon Area. 3) Community Engagement: While this is not a specific development issue before the City, in my experience, in order to achieve our growth and development goals in a way that is good for our community, environment and economy, we have to be better at working with neighborhoods. I believe Planning Commissioners can be successful ambassadors and messengers in this regard and would attempt to use my position to understand, address and bring along those who are wary of the unknowns that go along with change and growth.

First and foremost, I love San José. No major American city can claim the same combination of history and potential. As a third-generation resident, I have a strong sense of duty and loyalty to our city, and a commitment to celebrating its unique diversity, with a constantly refreshed focus on equity. I am also passionate about public service and want to ensure that our elected leaders receive timely, informed, and thorough input to guide critical decisions that impact more than one million residents. Through more than a decade of work in and around public policy in San José, I am familiar with key issues confronting the city with regard to planning and development. I have a deep understanding of city policies, procedures, and history — and particularly how the impacts are felt in all of our neighborhoods, from the east side to the west. I believe in the goals set out in the Envision San José 2040 General Plan Update, and if reappointed to the Planning Commission, I would seek to uphold the vision of that document, which was developed through extensive community outreach and thoughtful analysis. I would also look to serve as a conduit of information and input between city government and our residents, paying close attention to traditionally underrepresented communities. Our policies work best when they are grounded in a broad base of perspectives.

Please describe your experience in serving on a Commission or Board.

For the past four years, I have had the honor and privilege to serve as a City of San José Planning Commissioner, including a year as Chair and another as Vice Chair. I also spent four years as a member of the San José Arts Commission. Over the course of my past eight years of service to the City, I have gained valuable leadership experience and built strong working relationships with staff, fellow commissioners, city leaders, and a broad spectrum of community stakeholders.

Considering your experience and activities in business, labor, professional, social, or other organizations, indicate the experience, training, knowledge and/or skills which qualify you for appointment to the selected commission(s).

I have extensive experience with city planning and development policies through my work as a commissioner, volunteer community leader, and professional organizer and consultant. I have served on numerous task forces, working groups, planning committees, and other ad hoc bodies which advised city staff on issues of planning, development, transportation, housing, code enforcement, community engagement, arts, culture, and more. In my professional career, I have gained a wealth of knowledge regarding land use and urban planning through engaging and working alongside longtime civic leaders and experts in the field. Additionally, as a voracious and lifelong learner, I make it a point to inform myself on current events, initiatives, and theories surrounding planning at both the macro and the local scale.

What is your understanding of the purpose of the Commission?

As stated on the City's website, the Planning Commission is established in the City Charter with the purpose of making recommendations to the City Council on: adoption or amendment of the General Plan and specific and redevelopment plans for the future physical development of the City; adoption or amendment of land use and redevelopment regulations, including zoning and subdivision; adoption of the Capital Improvement Program; and other duties as provided by the City Council. The Planning Commission also certifies Environmental Impact Reports and acts as an appellate body on certain decisions made by the Planning Director. Considering this scope and directive, it is my understanding that the Planning Commission acts as stewards of the city's long-term planning and development goals, as determined by the City Council and informed by extensive community input. The commission is not intended to set policy or make policy recommendations but to uphold policy and provide advice to the council based on policies as they stand. Commissioners therefore should be expected to leave any biases at the door and serve as impartial arbiters on behalf of their fellow residents and the City.

Please list three issues facing the City that you feel the Commission should address.

As I noted in my previous answer, the Planning Commission is not intended to proactively take up policy recommendations or address issues beyond the scope of its work. However, given the current state of development in San José, the commission will continue to confront issues of housing, homelessness, displacement, and employment land conversions, among other factors that impact the city's ability to improve its jobs-to-housing ratio — a key goal of Envision 2040. While the commission could provide helpful insights to the council on these issues, in the final analysis, it is up to the council to set policies that help the City achieve its goals.

As a holder of a Master's Degree in Urban Planning, I have studied all facets of planning/land use. Through my studies and hands on experience as a past Land Use Consultant, I have gained an immeasurable amount of knowledge about the City of San Jose's planning goals, land use and government structure including both its challenges and its successes. In my current role as Senior Housing Policy Analyst, I am well-versed in the challenges our City and County face in providing and accessing affordable housing. I am often tasked with resolving difficult housing access issues and would use the knowledge I have gained and continue to foster to increase access and the construction of affordable housing in San Jose. From my experience as a County Planning Commissioner, I would like to apply my practical and studied knowledge to help shape our City in revitalizing key areas, green building, zoning, preservation (both historic and ecological) and in the social planning aspect of our downtown core to provide for a more social and economically vibrant hub of activity. I am intensely interested in continuing to help shape and grow affordable housing as a Planning Commissioner providing thoughtful and practical knowledge to policies, projects and private/public housing collaborations. I am also interested in working toward a more socially planned city that is inclusive of all ages and uses while maintaining the integrity of the City and the needs of its residents. Further, my interest in historic preservation and the value of maintaining said structures through re-use/rehabilitation is also of great importance and something I would work toward as a Planning Commissioner.

Please state any other information which you feel would be useful in reviewing your application

I am currently a Planning Commissioner for the County of Santa Clara and would relish the opportunity to serve my City in this same role. Serving the City of San Jose as a Planning Commissioner would allow me to narrow my focus on planning issues unique to San Jose, its growing population and identity as the economic, political and cultural center of Silicon Valley.

Please describe your experience in serving on a Commission or Board.

I have served and continue to serve on various Boards and Commissions, both political and community. As a Board Member/Commissioner, I am tasked with making decisions that reflect the best interests of the organization/entity/party that I am serving. In this neutral capacity, I have addressed leadership, planning, community, political and gender issues while maintaining the integrity and values of the organization. Through my service to others via Boards and Commissions, I have found that I am more aware and aligned with the direction, growth and values of my community and am encouraged to remain engaged in the work at-hand as well as in determining the future course of each of the organizations and bodies of government that I serve.

Considering your experience and activities in business, labor, professional, social, or other organizations, indicate the experience, training, knowledge and/or skills which qualify you for appointment to the selected commission(s).

I hold a Master's Degree in Urban & Regional Planning from our local University, San Jose State. I have hands on experience in working on urban planning issues through my involvement with Communitiversity (and as part of the curriculum) in the Five Wounds Neighborhood, the Downtown Core, Redevelopment issues (legacy) and Alviso. As a former Land Use Consultant, I have worked on and brought several matters before the Planning Commission for my clients that involved but was not limited to: zoning, conditional use permits, parking, easements, small development sites and historic property re-use. As a sitting County Planning Commissioner, I review and make decisions on a wide variety of planning issues, appeals, policies and permits, most notably, Stanford University lands. My fellow Commissioners and I are currently in the process of reviewing the Environmental Impact Report (EIR) for Stanford's 2018 General Use Permit Application. The application is for the development entitlement for the next phase of campus land use on Stanford University to extend through the year 2035. These experiences have allowed me to gain an immeasurable amount of knowledge about the City of San Jose and the County of Santa Clara's planning goals, land use and government structure and provide me with the experience and hands-on training that qualify me for an appointment to the Planning Commission.

What is your understanding of the purpose of the Commission?

The role of the Commission is to advise and/or make recommendations to the City Council on land use and development regulations to include zoning and subdivision, capital improvement projects, use permits and the certification of Environmental Impact Reports (EIR). The Commission is responsible for all matters related to the physical development of the City of San Jose.

Please list three issues facing the City that you feel the Commission should address.

1. Affordable Housing/Inclusionary Zoning: Continue to utilize inclusionary zoning to promote mixed income communities and equitable growth for all residents. Bring/approve economic opportunities in areas that already have a high concentration of affordable housing and have access to public transportation.
2. Smart Growth: Under the guise of smart growth in the City of San Jose, the Commission should support existing communities through the redevelopment of underutilized sites, enhancing economic competitiveness, providing more transportation choices, developing livability measures and tools, promoting equitable and affordable housing, providing a vision for sustainable growth, aligning, coordinating, and leveraging government policies and making the development process transparent.
3. Building and Maintaining a Comprehensive and Viable Downtown Core: Using the character of the Core to re-position it to respond to contemporary market challenges and opportunities through the combination of private and public efforts. Encourage the development of weekend, evening and night uses for all demographics to eliminate empty blocks and store fronts after traditional business hours end. Approve uses relevant to those living in the Core's High Rises and surrounding neighborhoods (Hensley, Naglee Park, Japantown, Luna Park, etc.) i.e., light retail, dry cleaners, cobblers.
