Please describe your experience in serving on a Commission or Board.

I have previously served as a Commissioner on the County of Santa Clara Citizens' Advisory Commission on Elections from January 2016 to January 2019. I also currently serve as an Alternate Commissioner for the County of Santa Clara Juvenile Justice Systems Collaborative which I was appointed to in February 2019. I have completed regular Ethics Trainings for Local Agency Officials administered by the County of Santa Clara. As the First Vice President for Service Employees International Union Local 521, which I was elected to in March 2019, I serve as a member of the organization's Executive Board. I previously served on the same Executive Board in my elected role of Secretary from May 2016 to March 2019.

Considering your experience and activities in business, labor, professional, social, or other organizations, indicate the experience, training, knowledge and/or skills which qualify you for appointment to the selected commission(s).

I have a long history and vast level of experience working with community-based organizations and a wide spectrum of nonprofit partners professionally and personally. I have dedicated countless time and energy to my community, working with directly impacted communities to advance social, racial, and economic justice. I have served others for the entirety of my career; for multiple years in nonprofit organizations and nearly a decade as a public servant. I will continue to bring a high level of commitment to others and public service to the Commission. As an elected leader representing a very diverse 40,000 public and nonprofit, private-sector workers throughout 17 counties in the Bay Area and Central Valley, I have stepped up to the challenge of listening to and uniting a wide array of voices. Through all my work, I carry my core belief that our communities thrive when residents, leaders, and workers come together collaboratively to meet the needs of our communities. I will listen to the residents of San Jose, bringing a collaborative spirit, and effect engagement in meaningful dialogue with underrepresented communities to the Commission.

What is your understanding of the purpose of the Commission?

The purpose of the Commission is to serve the people of San Jose. This purpose can be achieved by the Commission working towards a fair and equitable process which studies and makes appropriate recommendations regarding redistricting that makes certain investments, services, and policies can be targeted to ensure the representation of the diverse and complex identities of San Jose. This will be accomplished by conducting at least three public hearings, and creating space for communities of color and community groups to engage in dialogue with the Commission in order to understand the concerns of different neighborhoods, ensuring culturally and linguistically accessible discourse. The purpose of the Commission must also be to inspire the confidence of the public in the process and outcomes.

Please list three issues facing the City that you feel the Commission should address.

The first issue facing San Jose is underrepresentation of communities of color in all facets of public life. Diversity is a cache of resources that can provide creative, effective and thoughtful solutions and approaches to many of the challenges our world faces. This Commission should utilize San Jose's diversity in order to address the inequity in representation, lack of access to services and resources, and divestment experienced by San Jose's communities of color. The second issue facing San Jose stems from being the heart of the Bay Area – one of the fastest growing regions in California – which has contributed to the imbalance of economic success for residents. Many residents in San Jose face no-win decisions too often, at times deciding whether to have food on the table or a roof over their head. It is essential that every government body recognize and strive to balance the area's wealth with the working poor that comprise the infrastructure of our communities, apply a robust racial equity lens to every decision, and ensure recommendations and policies serve the needs of all residents now and continue to benefit them in the future. The third issue facing San Jose is the lack of investment in public education. California's current property tax system has resulted in a failure to invest in our children and our communities leaving California's schools ranked 39th in per pupil spending across the nation and have the largest class sizes. Economic shifts and dislocations mean community colleges have a critical role in educating and training displaced workers with limited resources. This Commission can establish district boundaries that unite communities and elevate the needs of those communities, including the voices of those that are yearning for an investment in public education.

I would like to say . . .

Thank you for considering me for appointment to the Redistricting Commission.

Please describe your experience in serving on a Commission or Board.

First and foremost, I have been Board President for the Franklin-McKinley School District five different times. I have worked very closely with my fellow board members and our Superintendent on a myriad of problems that come before school boards. I have also worked with the City of San Jose on Commissions such as CDBG to help the residents of this city.

Considering your experience and activities in business, labor, professional, social, or other organizations, indicate the experience, training, knowledge and/or skills which qualify you for appointment to the selected commission(s).

I have been on the Franklin-McKinley School Board for 27 years and have dealt with numerous situations that have come up during that time. Working with my fellow board members has given me tremendous experience in looking at problems and bringing resolution to these. In my career in education I also worked with a diverse group of people to address common concerns and problems that came up during those times. I finished my career as a high school principal which involved a lot of interactions with students and staff.

What is your understanding of the purpose of the Commission?

The Commission will look at the new 2020 Census figures and redraw the city council districts to certain extent based on the new population numbers. This will require the active participation of all ten council Commissioners plus the Commissioner overseeing the meetings. This Commissioner will be appointed by the Mayor.

Please list three issues facing the City that you feel the Commission should address.

1. The Commission needs to look at the new population figures and should try to make each district as equal as possible to each other. 2. The Commission needs to be fair and equitable in its approach to redrawing some of the district boundaries. 3. Commissioners need to work closely with each other to bring about the best map possible for all council districts.

I would like to say . . .

I feel this is a great responsibility for the Commission to undertake. Each Commissioner should be open minded and be open to discuss the different options that will be presented at the hearings. I will do my best to represent my district, but also work very closely with my fellow Commissioners to bring about the best map possible that will take us to the next decade.
