Supplemental Questions

If applicable, have you ever attended a meeting of the Commission(s) to which you are applying?

☒ Yes ☐ No

Would you be available to attend meetings at the scheduled time?

☒ Yes ☐ No

Please describe your experience in serving on a Commission or Board.

I am new to the experience of serving on a commission but have staffed board meetings and committee meetings at the county level and attended city commission meetings as well, including speaking with commissioners.

Considering your experience and activities in business, labor, professional, social, or other organizations, indicate the experience, training, knowledge and/or skills which qualify you for appointment to the selected commission(s).

I have extensive experience in the Bay Area music and arts community, having had planned concerts, assisted local artists, worked for local record labels, and found success myself as an independent musical artist. The effect of the Ghost Ship fire on the Bay Area arts scene is what drove me to public service, to find ways to support youth culture, and preserve DIY/independent places of expression that help make life so enriching here.

What is your understanding of the purpose of the Commission?

To represent the San Jose Arts community and bring that experience to our city leaders, make sure city projects are reflective of the community, and advise the city council on initiatives that promote the cultural landscape of San Jose.

Please list three issues facing the City that you feel the Commission should address.

• Lack of all-age music performance venues, the subsequent effect on stifling a local band scene. • The gentrification of the arts, making it a luxury, and importing talent from outside San Jose to take the most lucrative and high profile contracts. • The outflux of successful San Jose artists, to cities with local markets that support them, and subsequent lack of anchor talent for a local scene.

Question applies to Arts Commission

Describe recent San José arts activities you have participated in during the last twelve months (up to five activities) and what drew you to attend?

"San Jose loves Bernie" Benefit concert; an event I coordinated at the local Sanders campaign HQ featuring local bands and connecting art and politics for the all ages audience. The connection of these two worlds helps bring an entirely new audience to each. "San Jose Come Up" shows; this local group that I am a part of hosts popup music concerts to highlight local talent and activate public spaces, combining the small business community and music scene in a way that is uniquely organic and symbiotic. "Wax Wednesdays" at Cafe Stritch; these are my weekly means of reconnecting with the scene, meeting new DJs and bands, and finding out about other DIY music shows throughout the city. 3F Gallery @ First Friday; this collective, who owns a small gallery space and storefront in Japantown selling art from local creators, featured a performance art exhibit at First Friday parodying the relationship between the city and the youth arts community, showing political art that is both incredibly digestible and insightful, and indicative of the ways unheard communities in our city are expressing themselves. "Remedy Radio" live show tapings; these live sessions feature local musicians and DJs on the online radio show's streaming platform. Being able to connect with folks from around the city over new music from local artists in an intimate setting, as these types of events become increasingly rare is incredibly valuable, and helps me to support these artists in whatever ways I can.

Question applies to Arts Commission

Describe the ways in which you believe the arts bring value to the general community.

Helping supercharge the viability of business and a diverse, mixed economy, bringing young people into the urban fabric, bringing investment with the cultural capital that makes locations special.

Question applies to Arts Commission

Should the City of San José have an active role in arts and cultural development? If so, in what ways and why?

Yes, the city should try as much as possible to promote and cultivate artists from San Jose and the Bay Area, and join SF, Oakland, and Berkeley as a major destination. It can do this by helping local artists gain priority for public and private contracts, and more seamlessly integrating the artistic community with the future planning of the city and development of neighborhoods.

Question applies to Arts Commission

How can you contribute to advising City Council on policy and programs related to cultural development in San José?

I bring a neighborhood perspective, I want cultural programs to be all-ages, I believe a strong connected fabric can lift up youth in low income areas, I think we can help prevent gang violence by making neighborhoods less cold and austere and empowering the residents to take back public space, and I think we can learn more from art initiatives and economies of other cities such as Austin TX; to better become a major hub for tech and cultural events that can seamlessly promote the two together to become an international destination, and a more appealing place for young people and those who value a vibrant cultural landscape.

I would like to say . . .

I would love this opportunity to expand representation for my community and serve in a creative way!

Please describe your experience in serving on a Commission or Board.

I have served on several commissions and boards - I have found them all insightful. I enjoy sharing thoughts and ideas. Most of all, it's most fulfilling when I see the organizations that I serve make a real difference for people and communities. I love when I see an idea I contribute blossom and get put into action.

Considering your experience and activities in business, labor, professional, social, or other organizations, indicate the experience, training, knowledge and/or skills which qualify you for appointment to the selected commission(s).

As an attorney and a certified mediator, I have gained knowledge and experience with regard to communication and working with conflicts and incidents where there is a polarization of opinions and ideas. When I serve as a mediator or private judge, those skills are used to diffuse such situations in a way to move towards resolution. I find these skills have been extremely helpful in my service to the boards and commissions I participate to serve the organizations.

What is your understanding of the purpose of the Commission?

The commission is task with the review, analysis and investigation of data with regard to the boundaries and modification thereof within the City of San Jose - in order to equalize the various districts in conformity with the current census data.

Please list three issues facing the City that you feel the Commission should address.

1. The current boundaries of the various districts do not reflect equality of households pursuant to our current census data. 2. We need to re-assess the demographics of the various districts 3. We need to review and assess the district boundaries in a way that makes more sense for district representation.

I would like to say . . .

I would be honored to serve on the commission. I think I can contribute greatly to the commission's goals and purpose.
