Dear Honorable City Council and Mayor,

It was my pleasure to draft the updated Youth Bill of Rights with the rest of the Commission and youth. I would like to speak on a personal standpoint and say that this document holds a lot of importance for youth as it is updating the terms that youth want to live by in this city. The updates consist of topics that youth feel are needed in order for the City of San Jose to be better for future generations and has been worked on meticulously for the past two years. I personally hope that you consider this document as an essential update for our city, and that you approve of it.

Sincerely,

Nicole V. Hoang

[External Email]

Good Evening,

Hope you are doing well! Here is my public comment for today's city council meeting. This is in regards to item 2.8:

"My name is Paula Escobar and I proudly represent District 8 on the San Jose Youth Commission. Over the past few months, we have been revising this document alongside other youth to ensure the Youth Bill of Rights Document is as inclusive as possible and hones towards the goals of equity and justices. The Youth Bill of Rights will set precedent for overdue change in our City, as well as uplift our community members. I urge the honorable City Council to not only approve this, but also create more spaces for the voices of the next generation to be heard."

Thank you!

Best,

Paula
