

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 3:20 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Judith Vera <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 3:18 PM
To: District7 <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Maya Esparza,

As a constituent of District 7, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Judith Vera

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 3:20 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Judith Vera <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 3:18 PM
To: The Office of Mayor Sam Liccardo <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Maya Esparza,

As a constituent of District 7, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Judith Vera

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 3:12 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Miguel A De La Mora <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 3:10 PM
To: The Office of Mayor Sam Liccardo <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Maya Esparza,

As a constituent of District 7, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Miguel A De La Mora

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 3:12 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Miguel A De La Mora <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 3:10 PM
To: District7 <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Maya Esparza,

As a constituent of District 7, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Miguel A De La Mora

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 3:11 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Felix Palaganas <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 3:06 PM
To: The Office of Mayor Sam Liccardo <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Sylvia Arenas,

As a constituent of District 8, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Felix Palaganas

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 3:11 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Monica Mariscal <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 3:06 PM
To: The Office of Mayor Sam Liccardo <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Pam Foley,

As a constituent of District 9, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Monica Mariscal

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 3:10 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Monica Mariscal <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 3:06 PM
To: District9 <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Pam Foley,

As a constituent of District 9, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Monica Mariscal

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 3:10 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Felix Palaganas <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 3:06 PM
To: District8 <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Sylvia Arenas,

As a constituent of District 8, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Felix Palaganas

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:55 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Ricardo Loza <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:53 PM
To: The Office of Mayor Sam Liccardo <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Liccardo,

I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Ricardo Loza

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:49 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Gracias Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Isabel Rangel <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:42 PM
To: The Office of Mayor Sam Liccardo <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Gracias Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Johnny Khamis,

As a constituent of District 10, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Isabel Rangel

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:49 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Gracias Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Isabel Rangel <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:42 PM
To: District 10 <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Gracias Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Johnny Khamis,

As a constituent of District 10, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Isabel Rangel

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:48 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Alfredo Vera <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:35 PM
To: The Office of Mayor Sam Liccardo <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Liccardo,

I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Alfredo Vera

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:48 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

Office of the City Clerk | City of San José

200 E. Santa Clara St., Tower 14th Floor

San Jose, CA 95113

Main: [REDACTED]

Fax: [REDACTED]

How is our service? Please take our short survey.

From: Alfredo Vera <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:35 PM
To: The Office of Mayor Sam Liccardo <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Liccardo,

I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Alfredo Vera

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:48 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Abel Medrano <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:29 PM
To: The Office of Mayor Sam Liccardo <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Liccardo,

I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Abel Medrano

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:48 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Mary Shiene Conducto <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:28 PM
To: District5 <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Magdalena Carrasco,

As a constituent of District 5, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Mary Shiene Conducto

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:48 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Mary Shiene Conducto <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:28 PM
To: The Office of Mayor Sam Liccardo <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Magdalena Carrasco,

As a constituent of District 5, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Mary Shiene Conducto

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:47 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Nga Dinh <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:27 PM
To: District2 <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Sergio Jimenez,

As a constituent of District 2, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Nga Dinh

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:47 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Nga Dinh <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:27 PM
To: The Office of Mayor Sam Liccardo <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Sergio Jimenez,

As a constituent of District 2, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Nga Dinh

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:47 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Kay Groft Jr <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:23 PM
To: The Office of Mayor Sam Liccardo <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Dev Davis,

As a constituent of District 6, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Kay Groft Jr

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:47 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Kay Groft Jr <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:23 PM
To: District 6 <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Dev Davis,

As a constituent of District 6, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Kay Groft Jr

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:46 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: José Javier Estrada <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:19 PM
To: District7 <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Maya Esparza,

As a constituent of District 7, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

José Javier Estrada

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:46 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: José Javier Estrada <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:19 PM
To: The Office of Mayor Sam Liccardo <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Maya Esparza,

As a constituent of District 7, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

José Javier Estrada

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:18 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Raúl Vargas <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:16 PM
To: The Office of Mayor Sam Liccardo <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Liccardo,

I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Raúl Vargas

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:18 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Miran Garcia <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:11 PM
To: The Office of Mayor Sam Liccardo <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Liccardo,

I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Miran Garcia

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:17 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Jaime García <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:11 PM
To: District 6 <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Dev Davis,

As a constituent of District 6, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Jaime García

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:17 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Jaime García <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:11 PM
To: The Office of Mayor Sam Liccardo <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Dev Davis,

As a constituent of District 6, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Jaime García

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:17 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Roberto Garcia <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:10 PM
To: District7 <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Maya Esparza,

As a constituent of District 7, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Roberto Garcia

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:17 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Roberto Garcia <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:10 PM
To: The Office of Mayor Sam Liccardo <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Maya Esparza,

As a constituent of District 7, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Roberto Garcia

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:17 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Nestor Arana <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:10 PM
To: The Office of Mayor Sam Liccardo <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Raul Perez,

As a constituent of District 3, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Nestor Arana

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:15 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Silvio Rocha <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:09 PM
To: District 6 <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Dev Davis,

As a constituent of District 6, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Silvio Rocha

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:15 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Lincoln Wong <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:08 PM
To: The Office of Mayor Sam Liccardo <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Liccardo,

I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Lincoln Wong

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:16 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Nestor Arana <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:10 PM
To: District3 <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Raul Perez,

As a constituent of District 3, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Nestor Arana

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:16 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Pt Tsai <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:09 PM
To: The Office of Mayor Sam Liccardo <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Sergio Jimenez,

As a constituent of District 2, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Pt Tsai

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:14 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Jose Segura <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:07 PM
To: The Office of Mayor Sam Liccardo <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Liccardo,

I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Jose Segura

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:16 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Pt Tsai <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:09 PM
To: District2 <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Sergio Jimenez,

As a constituent of District 2, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Pt Tsai

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:15 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Silvio Rocha <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:09 PM
To: The Office of Mayor Sam Liccardo <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Dev Davis,

As a constituent of District 6, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Silvio Rocha

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:15 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Huong Thai <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:08 PM
To: The Office of Mayor Sam Liccardo <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Maya Esparza,

As a constituent of District 7, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Huong Thai

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:14 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Huong Thai <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:08 PM
To: District7 <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Maya Esparza,

As a constituent of District 7, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Huong Thai

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:14 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Claudia Angel <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 2:07 PM
To: The Office of Mayor Sam Liccardo <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Liccardo,

I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Claudia Angel

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 1:45 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Mahmoud Mohamed <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 1:43 PM
To: The Office of Mayor Sam Liccardo <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Maya Esparza,

As a constituent of District 7, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Mahmoud Mohamed

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 1:44 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Mahmoud Mohamed <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 1:43 PM
To: District7 <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Maya Esparza,

As a constituent of District 7, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Mahmoud Mohamed

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 1:33 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Ramil Malvar <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 1:21 PM
To: The Office of Mayor Sam Liccardo <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Liccardo,

I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Ramil Malvar

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 1:32 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Sandra Munoz <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 1:29 PM
To: The Office of Mayor Sam Liccardo <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Raul Perez,

As a constituent of District 3, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Sandra Munoz

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 1:32 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Sandra Munoz <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 1:29 PM
To: District3 <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Raul Peralez,

As a constituent of District 3, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Sandra Munoz

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 1:32 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Concepcion Garcia <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 1:30 PM
To: The Office of Mayor Sam Liccardo <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Liccardo,

I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Concepcion Garcia

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 1:11 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Sandra Alvarez <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 1:09 PM
To: District9 <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Pam Foley,

As a constituent of District 9, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Sandra Alvarez

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 1:11 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Sandra Alvarez <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 1:09 PM
To: The Office of Mayor Sam Liccardo <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Pam Foley,

As a constituent of District 9, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Sandra Alvarez

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Sunday, May 9, 2021 1:15 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Eva Medrano <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Sunday, May 9, 2021 11:55 AM
To: District7 <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Maya Esparza,

As a constituent of District 7, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Eva Medrano

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Sunday, May 9, 2021 1:14 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Eva Medrano <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Sunday, May 9, 2021 11:55 AM
To: The Office of Mayor Sam Liccardo <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Maya Esparza,

As a constituent of District 7, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Eva Medrano

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Sunday, May 9, 2021 1:14 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: David Esquivel <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Sunday, May 9, 2021 11:53 AM
To: District7 <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Maya Esparza,

As a constituent of District 7, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

David Esquivel

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Sunday, May 9, 2021 1:14 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: David Esquivel <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Sunday, May 9, 2021 11:53 AM
To: The Office of Mayor Sam Liccardo <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Maya Esparza,

As a constituent of District 7, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

David Esquivel

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 3:46 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Pleamar Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Luisa Hernandez <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 3:45 PM
To: The Office of Mayor Sam Liccardo <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Pleamar Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Sergio Jimenez,

As a constituent of District 2, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Thank you!

Sincerely,

Luisa Hernandez

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 3:46 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Pleamar Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Luisa Hernandez <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 3:45 PM
To: District2 <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Pleamar Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Sergio Jimenez,

As a constituent of District 2, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Thank you!

Sincerely,

Luisa Hernandez

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 3:46 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Moe Khadem <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 3:37 PM
To: The Office of Mayor Sam Liccardo <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Liccardo,

I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Moe Khadem

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 3:37 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 3:36 PM
To: Agendadesk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Soledad Garcia <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 3:36 PM
To: The Office of Mayor Sam Liccardo <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Magdalena Carrasco,

As a constituent of District 5, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Soledad Garcia

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 3:37 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Soledad Garcia <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 3:36 PM
To: The Office of Mayor Sam Liccardo <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Magdalena Carrasco,

As a constituent of District 5, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Soledad Garcia

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 3:35 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Carlos Roa <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 3:33 PM
To: The Office of Mayor Sam Liccardo <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Maya Esparza,

As a constituent of District 7, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Carlos Roa

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Taber, Toni

From: City Clerk
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 3:34 PM
To: Agendadesk
Subject: Fw: Support the Return Together ordinance

From: Carlos Roa <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Monday, May 10, 2021 3:33 PM
To: District7 <[REDACTED]>
Cc: City Clerk <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Support the Return Together ordinance

[External Email]

Dear Mayor Sam Liccardo and Councilmember Maya Esparza,

As a constituent of District 7, I am writing to thank the City Council for considering the Return Together ordinance, and urge you to vote YES to a strong local policy with no carve-outs.

Even as vaccine distribution is beginning to bring us hope of emerging from this public health crisis, tens of thousands of our neighbors remain laid off due to the pandemic and do not know when they will be able to go back to work. The only way we can fully recover is if we all recover together.

Building on the new State law, the proposed Return Together ordinance is a lifeline for San Jose workers in the most affected industries. Hotel, event and hospitality workers are among the hardest hit by COVID-related layoffs, and face many more months before they may be able to return to work. One year after the initial shelter-in-place-orders, hotel employment in the San Jose metro is down 52%, more than any other industry.

Workers in these industries are overwhelmingly people of color, immigrants, and women, who are already hit hardest by COVID-19. Now, many of these workers, especially immigrant women, fear that when hotels and event centers re-open, longtime workers may be left out – people who have committed decades of their life to those jobs may be excluded from returning to work.

By passing a local policy, we can expand on the recent California law by adding a private right of action that empowers people to stand up for their rights in the workplace. We also need to ensure there are no loopholes — like bankruptcy carve outs — that would exclude the workers who most need these protections. I urge you to vote YES without delay so we can all Return Together.

Sincerely,

Carlos Roa

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.