a) Workshop on Redistricting Process

Paul Michell, Owner of Redistricting Partners and Consultant to the Redistricting Commission, provided an overview of the Redistricting Process and answered questions from Commissioners.

Public Comment: Paul Soto noted the historical redlining of San José that created concentrated populations, voting blocs, and leveraged power, which he emphasized should play a critical part in the Redistricting Commission's decisions. A caller with the phone number ending in 5140 suggested that the City replace the redistricting effort with alternate foci. Blair Beekman called attention to the lack of federal oversight for certain voting districts and questioned how the transfer of power from the federal to state level can be made more seamless.

VIII. Public Comment

1. Paul Soto called for the rectification of historical redlining in San José that deprived those affected of both due process of law and equal protection under the law.
2. Blair Beekman highlighted the possibility of an upcoming natural disaster in the Bay Area.
3. A caller with the phone number ending in 5140 believed that the City should focus its efforts on bettering the community and voiced support for those that share their opinions through the public commenting process.
